The texts for the course are:
P. A. Johnston, Traditio: An Introduction to the Latin Language and Its Influence (2nd Edition, Focus Publishing Newburyport 1998).
P. A. Johnston, Workbook to Accompany Traditio, Part II (Newburyport 1999).
Computer aided software to accompany this text, The Latin Tutor, can be downloaded from the publisher at http://www.pullins.com/txt/latin. Follow the instructions there for downloading the software. (This software will not work on MAC computers.)

Regular class attendance is mandatory:
1) One-third of the grade in this course is based on daily performance in class (confirmed by a weekly quiz).

> You will be expected to have prepared in advance the material assigned for that day. The best way to prepare is to write out the exercises—it is the only way to find out what you really don't understand as well as you think you do—and to correct it.

2) One-third of the grade is based on two one-hour midterms.
3) One-third of the grade is based on a three-hour final exam.

If you persist in your preparation, you should be able to read undoctored texts of the great Latin authors before the end of this semester (you can already read some of them!). Modo pergite – you're more than halfway there!
