- Enrollment in up to three 10-week courses or the equivalent. That's 30 sessions of classroom learning this Fall!

- More than 35 lunchtime presentations to stimulate and entertain while you enjoy BOLLI's community at midday. Lunchtime presentations include lectures by distinguished figures in journalism, academia, civic life, and the arts; musical and theatre events, and end of term celebrations.

- Complimentary faculty-led lecture courses during the winter and summer terms. Lecture course favorites in recent years include John and Abigail Adams: A Revolutionary Marriage, and The Prose, Poetry and Politics of Robert Penn Warren.

- Discounts of up to 50% on Faculty Seminars, specifically designed for adult learners like you. Faculty Seminars regularly focus on Shakespeare, film studies, Near Eastern and Judaic Studies, and themes in classical music.

- Weekly invitations to Brandeis programs of interest to seniors; and discounts on arts events at Brandeis and in Greater Boston area. We recently offered $5 tickets to a summer production of the New Repertory Theater.

- Eligibility for an education discount at your local Apple Store (BOLLI ID required).

- Access to Brandeis’ Gosman Recreation Facility, complete with personal trainers, tennis courts, and a pool. Registration and annual fee applies.

- Full access to Brandeis’ world class research libraries. By applying for a Brandeis UNET ID you can receive remote access to online journal and publications as well! With a UNET, you can also enjoy Lynda.com, a world class provider of online tutorials and training videos on topics such as PowerPoint and Photoshop.

- Convenient parking close to the program space.
