

Sara Shostak: Michael L. Walzer '56 Award for Teaching

Students in her classes call her approachable, focused, passionate, open, caring yet strict, challenging and motivating, and a clear, intuitive and thought- provoking lecturer.

Comments from student nominators include:

- She makes it a pleasure to go to class. The minutes fly by and I never want the classes to end.
- I have taken three courses with Professor Shostak, and in each one, I felt like I learned something new that has changed not only how I view the world, but how I see myself.
- She has taught me that it is alright to question the world around me, and because of her teaching, I feel confident that I can go forth and make valuable social change.
- She is the best kind of mentor in that she tells me what I need to hear in the most constructive and helpful manner.
