

Comments from students include:

“She challenges students to live up to their highest potentials, both in the sense of writing/assignment quality AND in the sense of pushing students to open their minds and engage more deeply in their analytical skills.”

“I can genuinely say that her class has widened my world view and helped me to look at medicine through a more complex lens that I'll use in any future career I take on.”

“So smart, so dedicated, so caring, so inspiring.”