

Brandeis University

2010-2011 Internships at the Classical Studies Artifact Research Center

Classical Studies has 2-3 campus Internships available in 2010-11. These full-year CLAS 92a/b academic internships (September 2010 to May 2011) earn 2 credits each term, for a yearly total of 4 academic credits. There is no credit given for incomplete internships. Duties include, but are not limited to, displaying, describing, researching, photographing, and entering computer data on the 800+ ancient (Bronze Age to late Roman) artifacts housed at CLARC, the Classical Studies Artifact Research Center, Golding 23. This is a great opportunity for original archaeological/art historical research. Selected interns register for CLAS 92a in fall, and work under the supervision of Professor Ann Olga Koloski-Ostrow, Director of CLARC and Chair of the Department.

Qualified applicants will be Classical Studies majors or minors able to work four hours weekly, for a total of 100 hours over the academic year. In early fall, Professor Koloski-Ostrow will set these hours, which will become more flexible over the year.

To apply, send an email with the following information to Professor Koloski-Ostrow (aoko@brandeis.edu). Deadline for receipt is Friday, 26th March 2010.

- 1. Name, Class Year, Email Address
- 2. CLAS major track and any other majors, minors, or programs
- 3. All CLAS/GRK/LAT courses taken, including instructor names and terms
- 4. Relevant job experience, e.g., excavation, museum, or office work.
(Familiarity with FilemakerPro and digital camera operation is a plus.)
- 5. In a short paragraph, explain why you want this internship.

For more information about CLARC, the artifacts, and our previous interns, see <http://www.brandeis.edu/departments/classics/CLARC.html>.