2017 REMIS SUMMER STUDY GRANTS in FINE ART and MUSIC

For First-years, Sophomores and Juniors with an interest in or commitment to Fine Arts and Music

Merit Awards for summer study in Fine Arts and Music are available to undergraduate first-years, sophomores and juniors with a strong interest and scholastic record in Fine Arts or Music. Interested students, not necessarily concentrating in either of these fields, may now apply to the Remis Merit Awards Committee for a study grant to be awarded summer 2017. These awards are intended to help finance research and study at centers of Fine Arts and Music for one summer term during the undergraduate career.

To Apply:

1. Draw up a detailed, well-organized description of the proposed project. The proposal should describe: how the project enhances your class, studio work or musical performing; what courses will be taken and what facilities outside of Brandeis will be used; what you hope to discover from the project/research; and the estimated schedule or time-frame for the project.
2. Include a separate budget page that clearly itemizes all costs associated with the project. Include the total cost as well.
3. Submit supporting statements from two faculty members.
4. Supply transcripts of academic records (from the office of the Registrar).
5. Provide your student ID number and email address.
6. Provide your summer mailing address for award notification and grant check.
7. Complete a university W9 form with the highlighted portions filled out (see Christine Dunant in Fine Arts or Cheryl Nalbach in Music).
