The Department of German, Russian, and Asian Languages and Literature at Brandeis University invites applications for a senior lecturer of Chinese starting in fall 2016.

Job Description:

Senior Lecturer within the Department of German, Russian, and Asian Languages and Literature sought by Brandeis University, the youngest private research university, as well as the only nonsectarian Jewish-sponsored college or university in the nation, to teach graduate and undergraduate courses in the Chinese language program with a focus on Chinese language instruction. Contribute collaboratively to curriculum development in the program. Advise undergraduate and graduate students. Perform department and university service.

Position located in Waltham, MA.

Requirements include a Master’s degree or equivalent in Education, Chinese Language Pedagogy, teaching Chinese as a second language or related field and no work experience.

Fluency in Chinese and demonstrated ability in Chinese language pedagogy are also required.

Application Materials Required:

If qualified, please send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, samples of syllabi (at least one beginning course and one advanced course), teaching demo (25 min. or longer real classroom teaching in the format of DVD or online video link), and three letters of reference to:

Prof. Yu Feng
Director of the Chinese Language Program
Department of German, Russian, and Asian Languages and Literature
Brandeis University
415 South Street, MS 024
Waltham, MA 02453

Alternatively, you may send an email to vfeng@brandeis.edu with attachments. All materials must be received by March 31, 2016.

Brandeis is an equal opportunity employer committed to building a culturally diverse intellectual community and welcomes applications from women and minorities.