The Research Circle on Democracy and Cultural Pluralism invites applications from students in the Social Sciences and Humanities for Democracy summer internship grants. The Circle may award as many as three summer internships of $3,500 each. Internships must involve work directly related to the mission of the Research Circle, as defined on our website at http://www.brandeis.edu/departments/politics/researchcircle/index.html.

Applications must include a.) a copy of the letter or email to the applicant from the organization establishing that the internship has been secured; b.) a clear statement of the work to be carried out during the internship, how it addresses the mission of the Research Circle; c) whether/how much funding will be provided by the sponsoring or other organization; and, c.) a letter/email of recommendation from a member of the Brandeis faculty sent directly to Professor Burg.

Documents are to be sent to Professor Steven L. Burg, via Rosanne Colocouris, administrator of the Politics Department (colocour@brandeis.edu).

The DEADLINE for applications is Friday, April 8.

The Research Circle is supported by a grant from Joseph Neubauer and Jeanette Lerman-Neubauer ‘69
