Defying Expectations: Chess Grandmaster Susan Polgar

Wednesday, Feb. 1, 4:00 p.m.
Sherman Function Hall

Chess is one of the world’s oldest games and is played in almost every culture, but it remains incredibly gender exclusive. Join us as we host Grandmaster Susan Polgar, one of the strongest chess players of the past 50 years. Susan will speak about her experience as a woman winning her way to the top of a male-dominated game, and about her educational efforts with young girls.

First woman to earn Grandmaster title

Olympic and World chess champion

5 lucky audience members will play a game against her; a can’t-miss opportunity!

Sponsored by Brandeis Chess Club, Hadassah-Brandeis Institute, & The Department of Sociology
