This concentrated training track helps students build research and communication skills that prove useful in college, graduate school, and on the job market!

Requirements:

- Research Methods course
- Sociology Capstone (spring senior year)
- Senior Research Paper (one semester)
- Honors Thesis (full year)

Students present research to a class, seminar, or conference

To sign up, see Karen V. Hansen, the Sociology Undergraduate Advising Head.