The Arts of Building Peace
with Dr. Cynthia Cohen

Through analysis of case studies, interviews with socially engaged artists, critical reflections on works of art and student projects, this course explores how cultural productions contribute to non-violent resistance, the re-humanization of former enemies, reconciliation, and human and community development.

How can creative expressions be crafted to contribute to the transformation of conflict?

How can communities benefit by linking the transformative power of the arts with the strategic power of peacebuilding?

How can arts/peacebuilding initiatives be designed to minimize the risks of doing harm?

Time: Wednesday from 9 - 11.50am
Location: Spingold Classroom 111

The Class will be led by Dr. Cynthia Cohen, director of the Program on Peacebuilding and the Arts at the International Center for Ethics, Justice, and Public Life.
