Independent Auditors' Report

The Board of Trustees
Brandeis University:

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Brandeis University (the University), which comprise the balance sheet as of June 30, 2014, the related statements of activities and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the organization's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the organization's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Brandeis University as of June 30, 2014, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Report on Summarized Comparative Information

We have previously audited the University’s 2013 financial statements, and we expressed an unmodified opinion on those financial statements in our report dated October 31, 2013. In our opinion, the summarized comparative information presented herein as of and for the year ended June 30, 2013 is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited financial statements from which it has been derived.

Other Matter – Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The accompanying supplementary schedule of expenditures of federal awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis, as required by Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the supplementary schedule of expenditures of federal awards is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated October 29, 2014 on our consideration of the University’s internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the University’s internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

Notes to Financial Statements

June 30, 2014

(with summarized comparative information for June 30, 2013)

(In thousands of dollars)

(1) Organization

Brandeis University (the University) is a private, not-for-profit, nonsectarian, co-educational institution of higher education with approximately 5,400 full-time undergraduate and graduate students. Established in 1948, the University offers educational programs for undergraduates in liberal arts and sciences, and graduate education and training in the arts and sciences, business, social policy and management.

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of Presentation

The University's financial statements are presented on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) and have been prepared to focus on the University as a whole and to present balances and transactions based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions, as follows:

Unrestricted – Net assets not subject to donor-imposed restrictions and available for the general operations of the University. Such net assets may be designated by the Board of Trustees for specific purposes, including to function as endowment.

Temporarily restricted – Net assets subject to donor-imposed or legal stipulations as to the timing of their availability or use for a particular purpose. These net assets are released from restrictions when the specified time elapses or actions have been taken to meet the restrictions. As further described in note 11, the University is subject to the Massachusetts Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (UPMIFA), under which donor-restricted endowment funds may be appropriated for expenditure by the Board of Trustees of the University in accordance with the standard of prudence prescribed by UPMIFA. Net assets of such funds in excess of their historic dollar value are classified as temporarily restricted until appropriated by the Board and spent in accordance with the standard of prudence imposed by UPMIFA. Life income trusts and pledges receivable for which the ultimate use is not permanently restricted are also reported as temporarily restricted net assets.

Permanently restricted – Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that neither expire with the passage of time nor can be fulfilled or otherwise removed by actions of the University. These primarily consist of the historic dollar value of contributions to donor-restricted endowment funds.

For comparison purposes, the 2014 statement of activities has been presented with 2013 summarized comparative information in total but not by net asset class. By design, this summarized 2013 information is not intended to and does not include sufficient detail to constitute a complete presentation of changes in net assets in conformity with GAAP. Accordingly, such information should be read in conjunction with the University's financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2013, from which the summarized information was derived.

BRANDEIS UNIVERSITY

Notes to Financial Statements

June 30, 2014

(with summarized comparative information for June 30, 2013)

(In thousands of dollars)

(b) Nonoperating Activities

Nonoperating activities reflect transactions of a long-term investment or capital nature, including contributions to be invested by the University to generate a return that will support future operations; contributions scheduled to be received in the future; contributions to be used for and net assets released from restrictions for capitalized property and equipment; investment return net of appropriations for current operational support in accordance with the University's endowment spending policy; and other net asset changes resulting from transactions that do not arise from or currently affect operations.

(c) Revenue Recognition

Revenues are reported as an increase in unrestricted net assets, unless their use is limited by donor-imposed restrictions or by law in which case they are reported as increases in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets. Expirations of temporary restrictions are reflected in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions. Net realized gains (losses) from the sale or other disposition of investments and the change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) of investments are reported as revenue in unrestricted net assets, unless use of these gains is restricted by donor-imposed stipulations or by law.

Revenues associated with sponsored research and other grants and contracts are recognized when the related allowable expenditures are incurred. Indirect cost recovery by the University on federal grants and contracts is based upon a predetermined negotiated rate and is recorded as unrestricted revenue as direct costs are incurred. All funds expended in connection with government grants and contracts are subject to audit by granting agencies. In the opinion of management, any potential liability resulting from these audits will not have a material effect on the University's financial position.

Tuition and fees are reported at established rates. Student deposits and advance payments for tuition, room, and board for fall and certain summer sessions are deferred and recorded as revenues in the year in which the sessions are provided. Auxiliary enterprise revenues are recognized at the time the goods or services are provided.

(d) Contributions

Contributions are nonreciprocal, unconditional transfers of assets or cancellations of liabilities. Contributions without donor-imposed restrictions or with donor-imposed restrictions met by the University in the same year as received are recorded as unrestricted revenue. Contributions received with donor-imposed restrictions are reported as increases in temporarily restricted or permanently restricted net assets based on donors' restrictions. Contributions of noncash assets are recorded at fair value on the date of the contribution.

BRANDEIS UNIVERSITY

Notes to Financial Statements

June 30, 2014

(with summarized comparative information for June 30, 2013)

(In thousands of dollars)

Unconditional promises (contributions receivable) are recognized at fair value, considering the time value of money and collectability, as temporarily or permanently restricted revenues in the year promised. Thereafter, contributions receivable are reported at the present value of expected cash flows using the same discount rates as initially applied net of an allowance for uncollectable contributions based upon historical collection experience and other relevant factors. Conditional contributions are not recognized until the stated conditions are met.

(e) Fundraising Expense

Fundraising expense was $11,658 and $11,588 for the years ended June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively, and is classified as institutional support in the statement of activities.

(f) Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, cash equivalents, except those held as short-term investments or in the long-term investment portfolio, consist of money market funds and investments with original maturities of three months or less and are carried at cost, which approximates fair value.

(g) Short-Term Investments

Short-term investments consist of operating funds deposited in cash management accounts with maturities at the time of purchase of less than one year, and are carried at fair value.

(h) Fair Value

Investments and funds held in trust by others are reported at fair value in the University's financial statements. Fair value represents the price that would be received upon the sale of an asset or paid upon the transfer of a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants as of the measurement date. GAAP establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes inputs used to measure fair value into three levels:

- Level 1 – quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 – observable prices that are based on inputs not quoted in active markets, but corroborated by market data. In addition, Level 2 includes investments reported at net asset value (NAV) as a practical expedient that are redeemable in the near term; and
- Level 3 – unobservable inputs are used when little or no market data is available. In addition, Level 3 includes investments reported at NAV that are not redeemable in the near term.

BRANDEIS UNIVERSITY

Notes to Financial Statements

June 30, 2014

(with summarized comparative information for June 30, 2013)

(In thousands of dollars)

The fair value hierarchy gives the highest priority to Level 1 inputs and the lowest priority to Level 3 inputs. In determining fair value, the University utilizes valuation techniques that maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs to the extent possible. Because the University uses net asset values reported by fund managers as a practical expedient to estimate the fair values of its investments held through limited partnerships and other funds, classification of these investments within the fair value hierarchy is based on the University's ability to timely redeem its interest rather than on inputs used. See note 6 for further discussion.

The estimated fair values of the University's financial instruments not measured at fair value, including cash and cash equivalents, receivables, accounts payable, accrued liabilities and deposits approximated their carrying values based on the generally shorter-term nature of these items as of June 30, 2014 and 2013. Notes receivable consist primarily of loans to students that have significant restrictions and long maturities, and it is not practicable to estimate their fair value. Utilizing available pricing information provided by a third party and other inputs that would be classified in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy, management determined that the estimated fair value of the University's long-term debt was $23,717 and $12,000 more than their aggregate carrying values as of June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

(i) Funds Held in Trust by Others and Other Assets

Funds held in trust by others (FHITBO) are held in perpetuity by external trustees, as specified by the donors, and are reported by the University at fair value. Trust income is distributed at least annually to the University in accordance with the terms of the trusts and is recorded as investment income. Changes in the fair value of the trusts are recorded as increases or decreases to permanently restricted net assets. The University had $10,176 and $9,392 of FHITBO as of June 30, 2014 and June 30, 2013, respectively. These are all classified in Level 3 in the fair value hierarchy because they are held by the trustees in perpetuity. Other assets include funds held by bond trustee; unamortized debt issuance costs; prepayments; and inventories.

(j) Property, Plant, and Equipment

Property, plant, and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of land improvements (18 years), buildings (60 years), building systems and improvements (18 – 25 years), equipment and furnishings (5 – 15 years), and software (5 years).

Expenses for the repair and maintenance of facilities are recognized during the period incurred. Betterments, which add to the value of the related assets or materially extend the lives of the assets, are capitalized. The University recognizes the estimated fair value of a liability for legal obligations associated with asset retirements in the period in which the obligation is incurred. When the liability is initially recorded, the University capitalizes the cost of the obligation by increasing the carrying amount of the related long-lived asset. The liability is accreted to its present value each period, and the capitalized cost is depreciated over the asset's useful life. Payments to settle the obligation are charged against the liability, and any difference between the actual settlement cost and the related estimated liability recorded is recognized as a gain or loss in the statement of activities.

(k) Other Long-Term Liabilities

The University is bound by trust agreements that include gift annuities and charitable remainder trusts. These funds are held for one or more beneficiaries and generally pay lifetime income to those beneficiaries, after which the principal is made available to the University in accordance with donor intentions. The assets are presented within long-term investments, and liabilities are recorded to recognize the present value of estimated future payments due to beneficiaries. The liabilities are $13,689 and $12,812 as of June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively. The University also has asset retirement obligations arising from regulatory requirements to perform certain asset retirement activities, primarily asbestos removal, at or prior to disposal of certain property. As of June 30, 2014 and 2013, the estimated liabilities were $6,458 and $6,399, respectively. In addition, the University carries a liability related to refundable advances received under the Federal Perkins Loan Program as discussed in note 4. As of June 30, 2014 and 2013, those liabilities were $6,082 and $6,057, respectively.

(l) Collections

Collections at Brandeis University are protected and preserved for public exhibition, education, research and the furtherance of public service. Collections are not capitalized; sales and purchases of collection items are reported as nonoperating revenue and expenses in the University's financial statements in the period in which the items are sold or acquired, respectively.

(m) Income Taxes

The University is a not-for-profit organization as described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended (the Code), and is generally exempt from income taxes pursuant to Section 501(a) of the Code. The University is required to assess uncertain tax positions and has determined that there were no such positions that are material to the financial statements.

(n) Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results may differ from those estimates, and the differences may be material. Significant estimates recorded in these financial statements at June 30, 2014 and 2013 include the valuation of certain investments, accrued expenses, receivables, asset retirement obligations, and split-interest agreements; and determination of the useful lives of property and equipment.

BRANDEIS UNIVERSITY

(with summarized comparative information for June 30, 2013)

(In thousands of dollars)

(o) Allocation of Expenses

The statement of activities presents expenses by functional classification. Depreciation, amortization, interest, and operation of plant expenses are allocated to functional expense categories on the basis of square feet utilized.

(p) Voluntary Early Retirement Incentive Program

The University offered a voluntary early retirement incentive program and approximately 80 University-funded staff members age 60 and above who had completed 10 or more years of service at the University as of April 1, 2014 took advantage of this program. Employees who chose this program received 12 months of severance at their regular base pay and a transition allowance. The total amount of expense resulting from this program was $6,445, which has been reflected in "Other changes, net" in nonoperating activities on the 2014 statement of activities.

(q) Reclassifications

Certain 2013 information has been reclassified to conform to the 2014 presentation.

(3) Accounts Receivable

The composition of accounts receivable as of June 30 is as follows:

	2014	2013

Notes receivable under the Federal Perkins Loan Program (the Program) are subject to significant restrictions. Such funds are reloaned by the University after collection, but in the event that the University no longer participates in the Program, the amounts are generally refundable to the U.S. government.

(5) Contributions Receivable

The composition of contributions receivable as of June 30 is as follows:

	2014	2013
Amounts due in:

(6) Long-term Investments

The investment objective of the University is to invest its assets in a prudent manner to achieve a long-term rate of return sufficient to fund a portion of its spending and to increase investment value after inflation. The University diversifies its investments among asset classes by incorporating several strategies and managers. Major investment decisions are authorized by the University's Trustee Investment Committee that oversees the University's investments.

In addition to equity and fixed income investments, the University may also hold shares or units in institutional funds and alternative investment funds involving hedged and private equity strategies. Hedged strategies involve funds whose managers have the authority to invest in various asset classes at their discretion, including the ability to invest long and short. Funds with hedged strategies generally hold securities or other financial instruments for which a ready market exists, and may include stocks, bonds and securities sold short and often require the estimation of fair values by the fund managers in the absence of readily determinable market values. Because of the inherent uncertainties of valuation, these estimated fair values may differ significantly from values that would have been used had a ready market existed, and the differences could be material. Such valuations are determined by fund managers and generally consider variables such as operating results, comparable earnings multiples, projected cash flows, recent sales prices, and other pertinent information, and may reflect discounts for the illiquid nature of certain investments held. Long-term investments also include assets associated with gift annuities and charitable remainder trusts.

Investments are reported at estimated fair value. If an investment is held directly by the University and an active market with quoted prices exists, the market price of an identical security is used as the reported fair value. Reported fair values for shares in registered mutual funds are based on share prices reported by the funds as of the last business day of the fiscal year. The University's interests in alternative investment funds are generally reported at net asset values (NAV) reported by fund managers, which are used as a practical expedient to estimate the fair value of the University's interests therein, unless it is probable that all or a portion of the investment will be sold for an amount different from NAV. As of June 30, 2014 and 2013, the University had no plans or intentions to sell investments at amounts different from NAV.

Registered mutual funds are classified in Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy. The University's fixed income strategy includes directly held U.S. corporate bonds, which although readily marketable are valued using matrix pricing and are classified in Level 2. Most investments classified in Levels 2 and 3 consist of shares or units in nonregistered investment funds as opposed to direct interests in the funds' underlying securities, which may be readily marketable or not difficult to value. Because the NAV reported by each fund is used as a practical expedient to estimate the fair value of the University's interests therein, its classification in Level 2 or 3 is based on the University's ability to redeem its interest at or near the balance sheet date. If the interest can be redeemed in the near term, the investment is classified in Level 2. Accordingly, the inputs or methodology used for valuing or classifying investments for financial reporting purposes are not necessarily an indication of the risks associated with those investments or a reflection of the liquidity of or degree of difficulty in estimating the fair value of each fund's underlying assets and liabilities.

As of June 30, 2014, the University had $571,962 in endowment investments classified in Level 3 in the fair value hierarchy, which are not redeemable at or near the balance sheet date. Of these Level 3 endowment investments, $198,690 is not redeemable at or near the balance sheet date and is classified in Level 3 accordingly. The underlying investments often consist of readily marketable securities for which active markets exist. The remaining Level 3 endowment investments of $373,272 are primarily comprised of private equity, credit and real asset investments which liquidate over longer periods due to the nature of the underlying investments and holding strategy of the funds.

In addition, $1,582 was transferred from Level 3 due to an option being exercised on a real estate asset. (a) Commitments

Private credit, private equity, and real asset investments are generally made through limited partnerships. Under the terms of these agreements, the University is obligated to remit additional funding periodically as capital are exercised by the manager. These partnerships have a limited existence, generally between ten and fifteen years, and provide for annual one year extensions for the purpose of disposing portfolio positions and returning capital to the investors. However, depending on market conditions, the inability to execute the fund's strategy, and other factors, a manager may extend or reduce the term of a fund from that which was originally anticipated. As a result, the timing and amount of future capital calls expected to be exercised in any particular future year is uncertain. The aggregate amount of unfunded commitments associated with global equities, private credit, private equity, and real asset investments as of June 30, 2014 was $13,115, $395, $50,049, and $66,538, respectively.

The University's endowment is pooled for investment purposes and consists of approximately 1,900 individual funds established for a variety of purposes. If an individual donor restricted endowment fund balance falls below its original fair value, that fund is considered to be “underwater.” The aggregate fair value of underwater endowment funds was less than their original corpus by $96 and $4,718 as of June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

The University follows the provisions of UPMIFA. State law allows the Board of Trustees to appropriate so much of the endowment fund as is prudent considering the University’s long-term and short-term needs, present and anticipated financial requirements, expected total return on its investments, price level trends, and general economic conditions.

Endowment return utilized in operations in 2014 and 2013 amounted to $40,022 and $38,229, respectively. The funds are utilized principally for student financial aid and support of faculty chairs.

The endowment investment objectives are to maximize risk-adjusted returns over a long-term horizon and to achieve its objectives by having a strategy of investing in multiple asset classes. In order to meet the primary investment goals for endowment funds, the average annual net total return over an extended period, after adjusting for inflation, is deemed sufficient to support the spending rate as determined by the University’s Board of Trustees. To have a reasonable probability of achieving the Fund’s primary investment goal at an acceptable risk level, the University’s Trustees Investment Committee has adopted a long-term asset allocation policy.

The University classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment and (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment.

Net assets associated with endowment funds are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor imposed restrictions. Donor-restricted amounts reported below include term endowments and appreciation, net of underwater funds, which are reported as unrestricted net assets.

Endowment and quasi-endowment funds consist of the following at June 30, 2014 and 2013:

	2014
	Unrestricted	Temporarily restricted	Permanently restricted	Total

Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters Based on an Audit of Financial Statements Performed in Accordance with *Government Auditing Standards

The Board of Trustees
Brandeis University:

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the financial statements of Brandeis University (the University), which comprise the balance sheet as of June 30, 2014, the related statements of activities and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated October 29, 2014.

Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered the University's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) to determine the audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the University's financial statements are free from material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit and, accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the University's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

Independent Auditors' Report on Compliance for Each Major Program and on Internal Control over Compliance Required by OMB Circular A-133, *Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations

The Board of Trustees
Brandeis University:

Report on Compliance for Major Federal Programs

We have audited Brandeis University's (the University) compliance with the types of compliance requirements described in the OMB Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that could have a direct and material effect on each of the University's major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2014. The University's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditors' results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs.

Management's Responsibility

Management is responsible for compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its federal programs.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on compliance for each of the University's major federal programs based on our audit of the types of compliance requirements referred to above. We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the University's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we consider necessary in the circumstances.

We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion on compliance for each major federal program. However, our audit does not provide a legal determination of the University's compliance.

Opinion on Major Federal Programs

In our opinion, the University complied, in all material respects, with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on each of its major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2014.

Report on Internal Control over Compliance

Management of the University is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above. In planning and performing our audit of compliance, we considered the University's internal control over compliance with the types of requirements that could have a direct and material effect on each major federal program to determine the auditing procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing an opinion on compliance for the major federal program and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control over compliance.

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control over compliance does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose.
