Focus on Careers:
TEACHING CHINESE AT THE COLLEGE LEVEL

Master of Arts in Teaching Chinese at the College Level prepares students to be instructors at the collegiate level within the U.S. education system. This program is designed for students who currently have a foreign master’s degree in Chinese teaching. Our graduate students take part in a unique one-year program with a focus on real life teaching experiences in the classroom, while also providing a solid foundation of learning from highly qualified professors. Students take courses in pedagogy, class design, and theory among others.

EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

- Curriculum development
- Classroom management techniques
- Thorough understanding of pedagogy
- Knowledge of classroom culture
- Awareness of individual student needs

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

To learn more about the field and career options in Teaching Chinese at the College Level, please visit:

Chronicle of Higher Education
chroniclevitae.com

Higher Education jobs
higheredjobs.com

Academic Job Resources
academic360.com

National Association of Independent Schools
nais.org

Carney, Sandoe & Associates
carneysandoe.com

BEYOND BRANDEIS

GSAS alumni have gone on to a variety of careers including:

Full Time Lecturer in Chinese – Loyola University Maryland

Chinese Teacher - Medfield Public Schools

Chinese Teacher - University of Texas at Arlington

The Graduate School of Arts and Sciences’ Career Services office helps you explore career options and acquire job-search skills while at Brandeis and as you prepare to enter the workforce.

Connect with us:
brandeis.edu/gsas/career gsascareers@brandeis.edu