Focus on Careers: WOMEN’S, GENDER, AND SEXUALITY STUDIES

Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies graduate work at Brandeis University allows for comprehensive exploration of the most important theories, literature, and concepts in the field today. The unique ability to focus on the stand-alone program, combine it with up to seven other dual masters degrees, or have a masters conferred while in pursuit of a PhD in Anthropology, English, History, Music, Near Eastern and Judaic Studies, Psychology, and Sociology makes this program truly unique. Brandeis Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies graduates may enter the arenas of academia, public policy, social service, law, and many others.

POSSIBLE AREAS OF EMPLOYMENT

- Teaching
- Higher education
- Government
- Women’s service
- Public health
- Policy
- Program administration
- Writing
- Community relations and education
- Research
- Consulting

EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

- Critical thinking
- Oral, written, and presentation skills
- Sensitivity to cultural dynamics
- Cooperative teamwork skills
- Awareness of intersections of gender, class and ethnicity

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

To learn more about the field and career options in Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, please visit:

- National Women's Studies Association nwsa.org
- National Women’s Health Network nwhn.org
- CDC Women's Health Department cdc.gov/women
- Global Fund for Women globalfundforwomen.org

BEYOND BRANDEIS

GSAS alumni have gone on to a variety of careers including:

- Assistant Director of Diversity Services
  Suffolk University
- Occupancy Specialist – BRIDGE Housing Corporation
- Program Specialist- National Ovarian Cancer Coalition
- Teacher/Counselor – Farr Academy
- Program Manager – Campaign for Good Governance
- Program Manager – Care 2 Connect
- Administrator – IDEAS Global Challenge, MIT

---

The Graduate School of Arts and Sciences’ Career Services office helps you explore career options and acquire job-search skills while at Brandeis and as you prepare to enter the workforce.