Hiatt helps Brandeisians know who they are, what they want, and how to get there.
Hiatt knows that careers are not about finding one job or making a single decision.
Career

Expectation
“What do you want to be when you grow up?”

Reality
“What are you interested in now?”
Career intersects with many areas of life, and is shaped by:

- Changing Interests
- Unexpected Events
- New opportunities
Recognizing the dynamic nature of this work, Hiatt has embraced a philosophy which helps students:

- Discover unexpected opportunities
- Develop skills and strategies to become adaptable
- Teaches flexible decision making
Chaos does not mean disorder - it is all about systems and patterns.

Chaos:
• Teaches flexible planning
• Addresses uncertainty
• Focuses on the individual

Chaos Theory of Careers

Acknowledges multiple pathways and that change is a part of career development and decision making

Allows for multiple factors/influences and is centered on individual

It is a multicultural and inclusive theory

Supports and empowers student self-efficacy

Of all undergraduate students engaged with Hiatt last year through in-person events, meetings, fairs, and with online resources.
Here’s what students say about appointments and drop-ins:

“The appointment was very specific to my needs and potential ideas. My counselor did a wonderful job in pointing me to specific directions and offered insight into positions.”

“Counselors care about individuality and help craft plans that play to individual strengths.”

“Hiatt gives students a better idea of how to search for internships/jobs when they may be a little lost. Every time I come in, I feel more confident.”

“The counselor I worked with helped me determine a process that will serve me well in selecting internships for the summer.”

Faculty and Staff

Brandeis faculty and staff are valuable partners in helping students discover who they are, what they want and how to get there.

Below are specific ways that Hiatt and faculty and staff members can collaborate to support students and alumni in the career development process.

Meet with Us

Hiatt welcomes the chance to meet with your program or department during a staff meeting or another time to share mutually beneficial information, referrals, programs and services. For example, your department or program may want more detailed information about online career resources such as Handshake, LinkedIn, the Brandeis Internship Exchange, or Hiatt’s Beyond Brandeis tool.

Contact Jon Schlessinger to schedule a meeting or group demo in our conference room or yours.
