

Pursue a career that can change your life, and the life of your community.

The Hornstein Jewish Professional Leadership Program at Brandeis University offers a twenty-one month program of pragmatic scholarship, field-based experiences, and international travel to create visionary Russian-speaking leaders for the 21st-century Jewish community.

We seek talented Russian speakers wishing to advance their own career training for jobs with meaningful social impact. We seek students who care deeply about the Jewish future and who have demonstrated strong leadership capacities and academic accomplishments.

Graduates receive an M.A. in Jewish Professional Leadership and a second degree from the Heller School of Social Policy and Management: an MBA (Masters of Business Administration) or an MPP (Masters of Public Policy).

Hornstein welcomes Russian-speaking applicants working in the Jewish community or in the private sector whose careers will profit from graduate professional and business study.

Your Hornstein training will enable you to pursue your professional aspirations and your desire to create meaningful social change and a strong Jewish community. Full scholarships with generous living stipends are available.

Your future is yours to make.
Hornstein can take you there.
