THE POLITICS OF VICTIMHOOD: The Work of Dahlia Ravikovitch

TUESDAY, MARCH 12, 2013
3:30PM to 5:30PM
SCHUSTERMAN CONFERENCE ROOM, 3RD FLOOR
MANDEL CENTER FOR THE HUMANITIES
BRANDEIS UNIVERSITY
415 SOUTH STREET, WALTHAM MA 02454

ILANA SZOBEL, an assistant professor of modern Hebrew literature at Brandeis University, will give a talk drawing on her recent book, A Poetics of Trauma: The Work of Dahlia Ravikovitch. In her work, Ravikovitch, an Israeli writer and Israel Prize Laureate, raises provocative questions about gender, trauma, and nationalism. Using close reading and the lenses of gender and psychoanalytic theory, Szobel analyzes Ravikovitch’s entire work as a depiction of the emotional structure of trauma survivors.

PROGRAM

3:30 pm Introduction: Ilan Troen
3:45 pm Ilana Szobel
4:30 pm Q & A Session
5 pm Reception

This event is co-sponsored by the Department of Near Eastern and Judaic Studies, the Women’s and Gender Studies Program, and the Schusterman Center for Israel Studies.

Parking is available in Tower Lot.
Your RSVP is strongly encouraged:
hibr@brandeis.edu

www.brandeis.edu/hbi | 781-736-2064 | hbi@brandeis.edu