

East Asian Studies Colloquium Series

co-sponsored by
The International and Global Studies Program
The International Business School
The Economics Department

“China - Global Crisis and Long-term Opportunities”

Dr. Albert Keidel

*Senior Associate
Carnegie Endowment for International Peace*

Wednesday, November 12, 2008
1:30-3 pm

Followed by refreshments and “round table” discussion

SWIG Intercultural Center Multi-purpose room

Albert Keidel joined the Carnegie Endowment in September 2004, after serving as acting director and deputy director for the Office of East Asian Nations at the U.S. Department of the Treasury. His work at the Endowment focuses on issues relating to China’s economic system reforms, macroeconomy, regional development, and poverty reduction strategy.

Before joining Treasury in 2001, Dr. Keidel covered economic trends, system reforms, poverty, and country risk as a senior economist in the World Bank office in Beijing. He has worked in China, Japan, and Korea and taught graduate economics courses on China, Japan, and economic development. Keidel currently teaches a Georgetown University graduate course on China’s economy.

Questions? Contact Professor Gary Jefferson (x-62253) or EAS Admin, Kathryn Howell (X-63498), kathryn@brandeis.edu