ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH AND JUSTICE
STUDENT PRESENTATION

Assessing Occupational Exposure in Black Hair Salons

In order to gain a deeper understanding of exposures in Black women’s hair salons, the Brandeis students in collaboration with EPA Region 1, the Resilient Sisterhood Project, Black Women for Wellness, MA OTA, with other partners including BPHC, Silent Spring Institute, Clean Water Action, Healthy Cosmetology Committee and ACE conducted a study to assess hair salon workers’ and clients exposure to specific volatile organic compounds and fine particulate matter. Students will present their findings and recommendations.

Thursday, December 17, 2015
12:30-1:30 PM
Boston Public Health Commission
1010 Massachusetts Avenue
Hayes Conference Room

All are encouraged to attend!
For more information please contact:
Stephanie Seller or Laura Goldin
sseller@bphc.org goldin@brandeis.edu