4. Scholarships and Fellowship opportunities:
4.1 In 2012, HSSP established the Conrad Fund, which provides support for HSSP students’ travel expenses. We are pleased to announce the first Call for Applications to the Conrad Fund. Review of applications will begin on Wednesday, October 15, 2014 and will continue, on a rolling basis, until two recipients have been selected. The Conrad Fund supports travel related to students’ research and professional development. Preference will be given to students requesting support to travel to collect data for theses or independent research projects or to present the results of their research at professional conferences. Up to $300 is available for each award to support travel during AY 2014-2015. Questions and applications should be submitted to HSSP Program Administrator Kathryn Howell, by email <kathryn@brandeis.edu>.

4.2 Stay tuned for funded fellowship opportunities with Hebrew Senior Life. The Heller School and Hebrew Senior Life have teamed up to offer a number of funded, competitive research fellowships to Brandeis students. Fellowships will focus on building knowledge, skills, and professional networks in the fields of healthy aging and long-term care.

5. Internship opportunities: Please see Internship Opportunities Sites include: NYU Department of Emergency Medicine, Institute for Community Health, Center for Connected Health, Town of Lexington Human Services Department, Brain Injury Wellness Center, Partners HealthCare Biobank, Hebrew SeniorLife, and others.
