Resistance, Reflection, and Community Building:
A participatory gathering to explore nonviolent direct action and how to respond in uncertain times

Join us to wrestle with the concept of civil disobedience and how best to respond to individual, interpersonal, and structural aggression with a paradigm shift. This workshop will offer tools, tactics, and conversation for community-building action.

* NEW DATES *

Staff Workshop
Thursday, March 2
12:00 – 1:30 pm
Pearlman Lounge (113)
Lunch Provided

Student, Faculty/Staff Workshop
Sunday, March 12
2:00 pm - 4:00 pm
Pearlman Lounge (113)
Snacks Provided

* RSVP by 2/28 Email ljordahl@brandeis.edu

Facilitated By:
Catherine Hoffman works to make connections between local concerns of social justice with global peace-making efforts through city resolutions, community organizing, sister city relationships, anti-violence work, and peace education.

Sponsored by: Peace, Conflict, & Coexistence Studies (PAX) and the Dean’s Office of Arts and Sciences