Join the members of our chaplaincy for a panel discussion of the future of religious and spiritual development at Brandeis. Together we will explore how far we have come as a pluralistic community and where the resources made available during this period of restructuring are headed in response to a new generation of students.

We welcome you to listen to this conversation and bring your own voice to the conversation.

Panelists: Reverend Matt Carriker, Protestant Chaplain
Allison Cornelisse, Pastoral Associate for Catholic and Spiritual Life
Maryam Sharrieff, Interim Muslim Chaplain
Rabbi Elyse Winick, Jewish Chaplain

Moderator: Bernadette Brooten, Kraft-Hiatt Professor of Christian Studies
