An interdepartmental program

International Business

Objectives

This program introduces undergraduates to the functions and problems of business enterprise and helps them to acquire skills essential to a business career. Administered and staffed by the Brandeis International Business School and the Department of Economics, the curriculum recognizes the trend toward global markets and the ethical and strategic challenges posed by rapid change.

How to Become a Minor

Please note that admission to this program has been suspended. Refer to the Interdepartmental Program in Business elsewhere in this Bulletin.

Committee

For additional members of the Program in International Business (IB) see the faculty listings for economics and Brandeis International Business School.

Requirements for the Minor

A. Four core courses: ECON 2a, BUS 6a (formerly ECON 12a), BUS 75a (formerly ECON 19b) and BUS 10a (formerly ECON 37b), or BUS 70a (formerly ECON 33a).

B. One course in statistics (ECON 83a, PSYC 51a, MATH 36a, b, or another statistics course approved by the program advising head).

C. At least one elective from the following list: BUS 10a (formerly IEF 135b), BUS 40a (formerly 148a), ECON 71a, 74b, 76b, 125a, 135a, 137a, 139a, 141b, 160a, 161a, 171a, 172b, 175a, 177b, POL 172b, PSYC 34b.

Special Notes

Economics majors may complete this program. No more than three courses may be double-counted. Thus a major who takes six ECON courses for IB can count only three of these toward the nine ECON courses required for the economics major. Students undertaking this program and the economics minor are also subject to restrictions to minimize the overlap in content. Consult your advisor for approval of such combined programs.

BUS 92a (formerly IB 92b) is not a required course for the program, nor does it qualify as an elective in the program.

Courses of Instruction

[1-99] Primarily for Undergraduate Students

BUS 92a Work in the Global Business Environment: Internship and Seminar
(formerly IB 92b)
Normally students must arrange an internship placement prior to registration and the internship is concurrent with the seminar. Students wishing to fulfill the internship component of the course in a semester when the seminar is not offered, must obtain approval from the instructor prior to the internship. A structured journal documenting the internship experience is required as a basis for seminar participation. Signature of the instructor required. This course may not be repeated for credit by students who have taken IB 92b in previous years. Encourages students to pool experiences and lessons drawn from various business environments and to analyze and discuss them in the context of related readings. Usually offered every spring.

Brandeis International Business School

Objectives

The Brandeis International Business School prepares students for the challenges of the emerging global marketplace. Its programs address the complex responsibilities faced by business and government leaders in their varied professional environments.

M.A.ief Program

The Lemberg M.A. in International Economics and Finance, offered in collaboration with the University’s economics department, is a two-year professional degree that integrates analytical skills in economics and capital markets with practical management insights and global economic perspectives. It prepares students for careers in finance, economic policy, consulting, multinational corporations, and international organizations.

M.B.A.i. Program

The M.B.A. International, a two-year professional degree, offers in-depth training in all business and management functions, with special emphasis on finance and strategy. Its internationally focused curriculum and language requirement distinguish it sharply from “generic” M.B.A. degrees.

M.S.F. Program

The M.S. in finance is a 10-course, part-time program focused on the quantitative and analytical tools of modern finance with emphasis on applications in investments and corporate financial management. The program accommodates the schedules of working professionals by offering year-round evening courses and may be completed within five semesters.

Ph.D. Program

The Ph.D. in international economics and finance, offered in collaboration with the University’s economics department, provides advanced training in economic theory, research techniques, and creative problem-solving in an integrated, global economic framework. Concentrations are limited to international trade, international finance, international business, and development/transition economics. The program prepares students for research, teaching, and policy-making careers, in business, government, and international agencies.

Courses of Study:

Master of Arts in International Economics and Finance
Master of Science in Finance
Master of Business Administration International Doctor of Philosophy

Combined B.A./M.A. Programs

Brandeis and Wellesley undergraduate students may apply for admission to a special B.A./M.A. track within the Lemberg M.A.ief Program in the spring of their junior year. They begin taking program courses in their senior year and satisfy the master’s degree requirements in one additional year of study after receiving their B.A. degree.

How to Be Admitted to Brandeis International Business School

The School seeks outstanding candidates from around the world, and from a wide range of backgrounds and experiences. Factors critical in the evaluation of applicants to all IBS degree programs include academic achievement, aptitude for graduate study, motivation, leadership, and experience. Detailed information regarding admission requirements, applications, policies, and procedures, is available on the IBS Website and by contacting the Office of Admissions.

Requirements for the Degree of Master of Arts

Program of Study
Students must successfully complete an approved schedule of at least 16 semester-length courses (or the equivalent) during their four semesters of residency at Brandeis. This includes six required courses (in the areas of accounting, financial theory, quantitative techniques, international economic environment, international trade, and international corporate finance) and the remaining five must be selected from a list of approved electives. Four semester-length courses (or the equivalent) may be completed during the student’s semester abroad.

Residence Requirement
Two years (four semesters) of full-time residence are normally required. One of these may be a semester spent at a foreign university associated with the program. For candidates on the B.A./M.A. track, one year of residence as a graduate student is required.

International Experience Requirement
Students are required to have international experience through living, working or studying outside the United States. This requirement can be fulfilled with experience gained prior to entry into IBS or while the student is enrolled at IBS. For a list and explanation of the options available for satisfying the requirement, consult the IBS website or the Office of Student Services.

Language Requirement
Students are required to have basic knowledge of a language other than English. This requirement can be fulfilled with a language learned prior to entry into IBS or while the student is enrolled at IBS. For a list and explanation of the options available for satisfying the requirement, consult the IBS Website or the Office of Student Services.

Concentrations
Students must successfully complete an approved schedule of four semester equivalent courses in the field beyond the required core courses. Students who complete this requirement receive the M.A. in international economics and finance with a concentration in international finance or international business.

Requirements for the Degree of Master of Science in Finance (M.S.F.)

Program of Study
Students must successfully complete an approved schedule of 10 semester-length courses (or the equivalent). Five courses are required in the areas of accounting, investment analysis, quantitative techniques, international economic environment, and international corporate finance) and the remaining five must be selected from a list of approved electives.

Residence Requirement
Students may complete the requirements at their own pace. Full-time residency is not required. However, students are required to complete their requirements within four calendar years after beginning work in the program.

Concentrations
Students may concentrate in one of two fields: business finance or international finance. Concentrating requires taking two semester courses (or the equivalent) in the field beyond the required courses. Students who complete this requirement receive the M.S. in finance with a concentration in business finance (or international finance).
Requirements for the Degree of Master of Business Administration International [M.B.A.I.]

Program of Study
Students must successfully complete a minimum of 16 semester-length courses (or the equivalent) during their four terms of residency at Brandeis. At least nine and one-half semester-course credits must be taken within a required set of subjects (in the areas of economic environment of business, quantitative methods, accounting and control, finance, marketing, operations, organizational behavior, and business policy) and the remaining courses must be selected from a list of approved electives. Four semester-length courses (or the equivalent) may be completed during the student’s semester abroad.

Residence Requirement
Two years (four semesters) of full-time residence are normally required. One of these may be a semester spent at a foreign university associated with the program.

International Experience Requirement
Students are required to have international experience through living, working, or studying outside the United States. This requirement can be fulfilled with experience gained prior to entry into IBS or while the student is enrolled at IBS. For a list and explanation of the options available for satisfying the requirement, consult the IBS website or the Office of Student Services.

Language Requirement
Students are required to have basic knowledge of a language other than English. This requirement can be fulfilled with a language learned prior to entry into IBS or while the student is enrolled at IBS. For a list and explanation of the options available for satisfying the requirement, consult the IBS website or the Office of Student Services.

Concentrations
Students may concentrate in one of two fields: international business or international finance. Concentrating in finance requires taking four semester equivalent finance courses beyond the required core courses. Students who complete this requirement receive the M.B.A. in international finance instead of the M.B.A. in international business.

Courses of Instruction

[200 and above] Primarily for Graduate Students

BUS 211f Information Management
(formerly IEF 281f)
Open only to IBS students. Meets for one-half semester and yields half-course credit. This course may not be repeated for credit by students who have taken IEF 281f in previous years.
Surveys of quantitative techniques and computer tools in management information systems including database manipulation. Objective of the course is to help students acquire advanced computer skills through cases and hands-on applications. Usually offered every year.

BUS 222a Organizational Behavior
(formerly IEF 237b)
This course may not be repeated for credit by students who have taken IEF 237b in previous years. Open only to master's degree students.
Covers the fundamentals of organizational behavior, including the topics of leadership, work motivation, organizational culture, organizational structure, group dynamics, perception, decision-making, and cross-cultural interaction. Assignments include group project analysis of real organizational dilemmas using concepts covered in class. Usually offered every year.
Mr. Molinsky

BUS 221a Managing across Cultures
(formerly IEF 230a)
This course may not be repeated for credit by students who have taken IEF 230a in previous years.
Focuses on interpersonal challenges of managing across cultures. Using a combination of lecture, role-plays, video, and student presentations, this course will equip students with skills and perspectives that will enable them to function more effectively in foreign cultural situations. Usually offered every year. Last offered in the spring of 2003.
Mr. Molinsky

Requirements for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy

Program of Study
Requirements include successful completion of formal coursework, outstanding performance in examinations designed to measure field competence, and completion of a thesis that represents substantial original research. Students are required to complete seven core courses (in the areas of microeconomics, macroeconomics, econometrics, and finance) and must also complete at least two elective courses in two of the four following major fields:

1. International trade
2. International finance
3. International business
4. Development/transition economics

After core and field examination requirements are substantially completed, students are required to enroll in ECON 399a (Dissertation Workshop). This workshop provides opportunities for students to hear research presentations by faculty members and visitors, present papers in progress, and define thesis objectives.

Residence Requirement
Three years of full-time residence are normally required. However, for most students it takes four or more years of full-time study to complete the degree.

Core and Field Examinations
Each candidate for the Ph.D. must pass a written examination, offered annually, covering the core required subjects. Students must also pass written examinations in two of the four major fields (see above) to demonstrate competence in a broad specialty. Field examinations are offered as required.

Dissertation and Defense
All candidates for the Ph.D. will submit a dissertation in a form approved by his or her dissertation director and by a committee appointed by the director of the Ph.D. Program. The student will defend the dissertation at a Final Oral Examination.
BUS 222a The Leadership Experience
(formerly IEF 231a)
This course may not be repeated for credit by students who have taken IEF 231a in previous years.
Prepares the challenges of leading and managing in interpersonally challenging situations. Topics include delivering bad news, conducting performance reviews, handling difficult employees, and giving and receiving feedback. Extensive use of role-plays and simulated managerial situations. ECON 210f Country Risk Analysis
(formerly IEF 221f)
Prerequisites: ECON 201a, 202f (may be taken concurrently). Open only to IBS students. Meets for one-half semester and yields half-course credit. This course may not be repeated for credit by students who have taken IEF 221f in previous years.

Explores country risk from the perspective of bankers who seek long-standing relationships with clients in emerging markets. Examines quantitative and qualitative techniques to manage country risk in a dynamic environment. Various country crises and success stories will be analyzed by using case studies. Usually offered every year.

Mr. Bayone

ECON 211f Regulating Competition
Open only to IBS students. Meets for one-half semester and yields half-course credit.

Although the U.S. economy is a market economy, government regulation exists in almost all areas. Thus for would-be regulators and for managers of private enterprises who have to function in this environment, it is important to understand the rationale behind government intervention into the market, in the U.S. and in an international context. Considers theoretical and practical aspects of competition policy, intellectual property right laws, and regulation. Various economic theories about how regulators behave are also looked into, although the focus is on current policy issues and regulatory structure. Also focuses on the recent move away from regulation and the pros and cons of deregulation. Two particular industries are studied—telecommunications and transportation. The case studies used help to illuminate the various types of regulation and competition policy, how they work in reality, the problems associated with them, and suggested remedies wherever possible. Usually offered every year. Will be offered in the fall of 2003.

Ms. Sanyal
