Spanish Language and Literature

Objectives

Studies in the Spanish Program promote not only communication skills, but also an understanding of the various cultural contexts through interdisciplinary explorations of texts. Literature, film, history, politics, gender studies, etc. lead to some depth of understanding of issues facing Hispanic communities at home and abroad. Increasingly, technology (the uses of the Internet, Webpage design, Powerpoint presentations, etc.) plays a part in these explorations.

Students are prepared to pursue careers in a wide range of fields where effective communication is essential, including those in which they will have contact with Spanish speakers and/or Hispanic cultures, in this country or globally. Students often go on to pursue graduate studies in professional fields (law, medicine, business, international relations, education, social services, etc.), in which their language and technological skills will make them especially attractive to employers, and which will enable them to succeed in a competitive environment.

How to Become a Major

Students considering a Spanish major should complete the language requirement as soon as possible, preferably by the end of their first year at Brandeis. They are then advised to take SPAN 105a before beginning the sequence of Spanish language (SPAN 106b or SPAN 108a) and literature (SPAN 110a, 111b, and beyond) courses that will fulfill the Spanish major. SPAN 109b may also be counted for the major. Please note: Many Spanish majors and minors choose to study in Spain or Latin America for all or part of their junior year. Normally, any full-credit Spanish literature course taken abroad will count toward the Spanish major up to a maximum of four courses for majors and two courses for minors. Students interested in learning more about the Spanish major or minor are encouraged to speak with the undergraduate advising head in Spanish.

See Romance and Comparative Literature.

Requirements for the Major

The major consists of nine semester courses.

A. SPAN 106b (Spanish Composition, Grammar, and Stylistics) or SPAN 108a (Spanish for Bilingual Students). SPAN 109b (Introduction to Hispanic Cultural Studies) may also be counted toward the major.

B. SPAN 110a (Introduction to Peninsular Spanish Literature), and SPAN 111b (Introduction to Latin American Literature), to be completed as early as possible.

C. The additional semester courses must be from the Spanish literature offerings numbered above 111, at least one of which must deal with Spanish or Latin American literature before 1700. No more than two of these electives may be taken in English. Courses conducted in English include those abbreviated SECS (Spanish and European Cultural Studies) and ECS 100a.

D. SPAN 198a (Seminar in Literary and Cultural Studies) in the fall semester of the senior year. Those seeking departmental honors will also take SPAN 99b in the spring to complete the Senior Thesis. Honors students must have maintained a 3.60 GPA in Spanish courses previous to the senior year. Honors are awarded on the basis of cumulative excellence in all courses taken in the major, including the Senior Thesis.

Students may petition the undergraduate advisor for changes in the above program. Students wishing to receive credit toward the Spanish major for courses that are crosslisted under ECS (abbreviated SECS) will be required to do the reading and writing in Spanish.

Requirements for the Minor

The minor consists of five semester courses.

A. SPAN 106b (Spanish Composition, Grammar, and Stylistics) or SPAN 108a (Spanish for Bilingual Students).

B. SPAN 110a (Introduction to Peninsular Spanish Literature) and SPAN 111b (Introduction to Latin American Literature).

C. Two additional Spanish literature courses from the offerings numbered above 110. No more than one of these electives may be taken in English. Courses conducted in English include those abbreviated SECS (Spanish and European Cultural Studies). All students pursuing a Spanish minor will be assigned an advisor in the department. Enrollment in the Spanish minor must be completed by the end of the first semester of the senior year. All courses are conducted in Spanish, unless otherwise noted.

D. SPAN 109b (Introduction to Hispanic Cultural Studies) may also be counted toward the minor.
