An interdepartmental program

Film Studies

Objectives

Film studies is an interdisciplinary liberal arts program offering insight into motion picture media. Broadly understood to encompass inquiry into the aesthetics, history, and cultural meanings of the moving image, the Film Studies Program has two primary goals: to offer an informed background in motion picture history and to develop a critical appreciation of the cultural meanings of film. It is not a preprofessional program emphasizing technical skills but a humanities-based course of study stressing the study of film style and content, film history, and the relationships between film and culture.

The curriculum is designed to provide a broad overview of the history of the moving image, to develop expertise in cinematic style and cultural meaning, to lend theoretical sophistication to an understanding of the moving image, and to ensure some appreciation of the practical and technical side of motion picture production. A field especially congenial to interdisciplinary inquiry, film studies is a practical complement to a range of established majors for which an expertise in visual style and motion picture history is becoming ever more important—American studies, English and American literature, fine arts, history, politics, sociology, and theater arts.

How to Become a Minor

The program is open to all Brandeis undergraduates. To enroll in the program, consult with a member of the film studies committee and fill out declaration forms from the Office of Academic Affairs. Students who complete the requirements of the program receive film studies certificates and notations on their transcripts.

Requirements for the Program

Students must complete six courses:

A. Core course: FILM 100a [Introduction to the Moving Image].

B. An approved film studies seminar or research project usually taken in the senior year. The senior seminar or research project, which requires permission of the instructor, is designed to function as a capstone experience to the Film Studies Program, an occasion to demonstrate a sophisticated mastery of the history, style, and cultural impact of the moving image.

C. Four additional courses from the approved film studies curriculum, which must include one course in a non-American cinema and one course in some creative aspect of film production.

The fine arts department offers programs in studio art and art history for the undergraduate student who wishes to study the visual arts as a creative artist or as a humanist.

Art History
Art is the visual record of human history (and the expression of our finest aspirations). The history of art is a discipline that critically examines that record and achievement in the broadest cultural and intellectual context. The art history program offers a wide array of courses. Some courses provide a survey of major developments in Western and Asian art, while others examine in greater detail major themes or movements in art (such as Impressionism and Post-Impressionism, the Age of Cathedrals, and the History of Photography). Students are able to complement these offerings by taking advantage of the proximity of The Rose Art Museum and the wealth of other art museums and cultural institutions in the surrounding area. This comprehensive program exemplifies the ideals of a liberal arts education and thereby enhances any individual course of study. It also prepares students to enter graduate programs in art history, museum studies, and arts administration, or to begin careers in the arts.

Studio Art
Art is a language of its own making and as such, a student is educated in visual thinking and creativity through the fundamental process of direct experience. The studio department offers diverse approaches in painting, sculpture, printmaking, design, and drawing. The studio program fosters a student's ability to make an informed judgment, and it is supplemented through a distinguished visiting artist program, a strong pedagogical link with The Rose Art Museum, and trips to important museums and galleries in New York City, Washington, D.C., and the Boston area. Through the core of studio classes the student is able to realize, with excellence, his or her potential for expression and informed vision. Studio is an appropriate vehicle for an intellectual experience within the liberal arts context, and students are assisted in the preparation for B.F.A. and M.F.A. graduate programs.

Post-Baccalaureate Program in Studio Art
The fine arts department offers a post-baccalaureate certificate program for students with a bachelor's degree who are interested in extending their experience in studio art. The program's structure emphasizes independent work with assistance achieved through critical interaction with faculty and visiting artists. Students can prepare portfolios for admission to graduate school, or achieve the self-sufficiency necessary for continued studio work outside an academic environment.

Mortimer-Hays Brandeis Traveling Fellowship
The department administers the Mortimer-Hays Brandeis Traveling Fellowship, which provides support to students in the visual and fine arts, including art history, conservation, studio art, and photography for travel and living expenses outside the continental United States, Alaska, and Hawaii. Support is provided only in accordance with a program of study or other activities approved by the fellowship selection committee. Brandeis is one of 10 colleges and universities that participate in this program.

How to Become a Major or Minor

Art History
The art history major is offered a variety of courses in ancient to contemporary Western art and Asian art. The student may specialize in a given area and choose a faculty advisor who will guide his or her work. The Honors Program in art history requires the completion of a Senior Thesis written under the close supervision of an advisor and a faculty committee. In addition to the courses given at Brandeis, the art history major may enroll in special seminars given by the staff of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. These courses range from Egyptian art to American landscape painting to the preservation and scientific examination of works of art, and all of them involve contact with art objects in the Museum's world-famous collection. Students may also receive academic credit for internships taken in off-campus museums and art galleries.

Minor in Art History
A minor in art history is offered in addition to the major. This gives the student majoring in another department the opportunity to flexibly construct a program of six art history courses that reflect his or her own personal or academic interests. Studio art majors may not minor in art history.

Studio Art
It is recommended that students considering a studio art major enroll in a beginning painting or sculpture course in their sophomore year to allow time to develop their work in a sequence of courses taken over a period of three years. Studio majors are expected to take art history classes as an important component of their major requirement and to deepen their creative experience. Majors are encouraged to extend their intellectual and creative involvement through summer art programs and participation in full studio faculty reviews of their work during sophomore, junior, and senior years.

How to Be Admitted to the Post-Baccalaureate Program

An undergraduate major in studio art is not required of applicants, but students should be working beyond the beginning level in painting or sculpture. Applicants will be required to submit a group of slides of their work. GMAT or GRE scores are not required. [For more information applicants should contact the fine arts department.]
Students may major in either studio art or art history. A minimum of 12 semester courses is required to fulfill each major. Students may also double major in studio art and art history if the requirements of each major are fully met with a minimum of 18 semester courses total.

Studio Art

Studio majors are required to take:

- A. Two semesters of drawing or printmaking courses: FA 1b, FA 3a, FA 3b, FA 103a, FA 103b, FA104a, FA104b, FA 105a, FA 105b, FA 109a, FA 109b, FA 116a, in any combination.

- B. Four semesters of beginning and intermediate courses in painting or sculpture, or a combination of two consecutive semesters in both painting and sculpture, selected by students in consultation with their department advisor, and completed by the end of the Junior year.

- C. Two semesters of Senior Studio, FA 110a/b in painting or sculpture.

- D. Four semesters of art history, from among the fine arts and cross-listed courses, consisting of one course in ancient or medieval art, one course in Asian art, and two courses in Renaissance to Modern art. Studio majors may take either FA 76a or FILM 100a for an elective, but not both.

Art History

Art history curriculum general requirements: 10 required courses from among the FA and cross-listed course offerings, plus two electives.

- A. FA 17a or one course each in ancient and medieval. Students who take FA 17a must take one additional elective from the fine arts and cross-listed courses to fulfill 10 required courses.

- B. FA 18b plus two electives in Renaissance through Modern or three courses selected from the following four fields: Renaissance, Baroque, Modern, and Architecture/American.

- C. One course in Asian art.

- D. FA 197b (Seminar in Methods and Approaches in the History of Art).

- E. One research seminar or independent study in art history (FA 98b).

- F. Two semesters of studio work.

Requirements for the Minor in the History of Art

Department majors in studio art cannot also minor in the history of art, due to the overlapping core requirements of the major. In corollary manner, studio courses are not considered part of the art history minor.

To fulfill the minor, all courses must receive a final grade of C- or better. No more than two courses taken in programs abroad, or as transfer credit, can be counted toward the minor.

Six courses are required in art history:

- A. One course should be taken in pre-Renaissance or Asian art history.

- B. Five additional art history courses.

No more than two courses taken in programs abroad, or as transfer credit, can be counted toward the minor.

To fulfill the minor, all courses must receive a final grade of C- or better. Studio courses are not considered part of the art history minor, and studio art majors may not minor in art history.
Requirements for the Post-Baccalaureate Program in Studio Art

A. Students enroll in two courses each semester:
   1. FA 200d: A studio tutorial with faculty advisors.
   2. One advanced course in drawing, printmaking, or sculpture.

Courses of Instruction

[1-99] Primarily for Undergraduate Students

Studio Art Courses

FA 1a Basic Visual Concepts in Painting
[ ca ]
Beginning-level course. Preference to first-year students and sophomores. Studio fee: $30 per semester.
An exploration of two-dimensional visual concepts using oil paint. A semester long course, intended for the beginner, students explore concepts of color, composition, drawing, and expression. Observations from still-lifes, models, and landscapes are translated into traditional and contemporary ideas as students learn the basic techniques of oil painting. Usually offered every year. Mr. Wardwell

FA 1b Elements of Design in Art
Beginning-level course. Preference to first-year students and sophomores. Studio fee: $30 per semester.
The theoretical and visual study of pictorial form in non-representational drawing. This is a beginning-level practical studio course. Usually offered every year. Ms. Fair

FA 3a Introduction to Drawing I
Beginning-level course. No previous drawing experience necessary. Preference to first-year students and sophomores. May be repeated once for credit if taught by different instructors. Studio fee: $20 per semester.
A studio class that introduces a range of drawing materials and methods, intended for both Studio majors and non-majors. Students will draw from direct observation of still-life, landscape and the human figure. Drawing media may include graphite, charcoal, ink and collage as well as watercolor and pastel. The drawings of great artists throughout history will be studied to provide examples of what is possible within this broad and expressive visual language. Ms. Lichtman, Mr. Wardwell, and Staff

FA 3b Introduction to Drawing II
Beginning-level course. No previous drawing experience necessary. Preference to first-year students and sophomores. May be repeated once for credit if taught by different instructors. Studio fee: $20 per semester.

FA 4a Three-Dimensional Design I
Beginning-level course. Preference to first-year students and sophomores. May be repeated once for credit if taught by different instructors. Studio fee: $25 per semester.
Exploration of three-dimensional aspects of form, space, and composition utilizing a variety of materials and sculptural techniques. Emphasizes students inventing images through the use of modern materials and contemporary ideas about sculpture. Assignments are based on abstract thought and problem-solving. The intent of this course is to give students a rich studio experience and promote a fresh and meaningful approach to visual concepts. Usually offered every semester. Mr. Abrams, Mr. Baenziger, and Ms. Fair

FA 4b Three-Dimensional Design II
Beginning-level course. Preference to first-year students and sophomores. May be repeated once for credit if taught by different instructors. Studio fee: $25 per semester.
See FA 4a for course description. Usually offered every semester. Staff

FA 5a Intermediate Drawing
Beginning-level course. Preference to first-year students and sophomores. Studio fee: $25 per semester.
This studio course explores the discovery and expression of meaning through visual analysis and the graphic language of line and shape. Using a variety of drawing media, students experiment with different concepts and techniques. Assignments will be based on a specific format of visual experience, and they will be completed through observation, imagination, and personal investigation. Ms. Fair, Mr. Abrams, Mr. Baenziger, and Staff

FA 5b Blurring the Boundaries
Studio fee: $25 per semester.
This studio course is an opportunity to work both in painting and in sculpture. Students are expected to create a dialogue between methods of collage, drawing, monotype, painting, and methods of constructing three dimensional objects including mixed media and installation. We use paintings as a source for sculpture, and sculpture as a source for painting. There will be an additional two hours of monitored shop time required to attend weekly outside of scheduled class time. Usually offered every year. Ms. Fair

FA 7b Life Painting
Prerequisite: Any studio art course. Studio fee: $25 per semester.
A semester long course dedicated to the practice and studying the human form. Students work in oil paint from live models for the duration of the course. Students explore historical and contemporary painting issues surrounding art making from the model. Usually offered every spring. Mr. Wardwell

FA 98a Independent Study in Studio Art
Prerequisites: Normally open only to studio majors in their junior and senior years. Appropriate prerequisites. As the number of times FA 98a may be taken is limited by department regulations, the interested student should consult the department studio advising head and his or her advisor. Appropriate studio fees will be charged. Usually offered every year.

Staff

FA 99b Senior Research in Studio Art
Prerequisites: A grade point average in fine arts courses of 3.00. Interested studio students must take FA 99a in the fall semester of their senior year, in addition to FA 110a and 110b. At the beginning of the spring semester, students wishing to pursue honors will have their artwork reviewed by studio faculty. Based on this review, eligible students will be given permission to enroll in FA 99b for the spring semester. Appropriate studio fees will be charged for studio courses. Usually offered every year.

Seminars in the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston

The following seminars are offered by the curators of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston (MFA) to a few selected graduate and undergraduate students of Boston University, Brandeis University, Boston College, Tufts University, and Wellesley College. Seminars are restricted to students with majors in fine arts. Enrollment limited at the discretion of the fine arts chair and the instructor. Interested students are required to consult the fine arts chair.
FA 82b Issues in Contemporary Art
Prerequisites: some familiarity with contemporary art and artists and knowledge of modern art history recommended.
Examines a variety of critical issues, both practical and theoretical, surrounding the art of our time. In addition, explores the various approaches to exhibition-making at a museum as well as at other venues such as commercial galleries and non-profit spaces. Includes in-depth examination of contemporary works of art in the MFA's collection, many of which are rarely on view. Students consider these works with an eye toward the organization of an exhibition. Structured visits to local galleries and non-profit spaces, reading and writing assignments, and presentations; participation in discussions is essential.
Ms. Brutvan and Mr. Stover (Museum of Fine Arts, Boston)

FA 84a Egypt Lost and Found: Boston and the Genesis of American Egyptology
[ ca ]
The Museum of Fine Arts, Boston's [MFA] Egyptian collection is one of the largest and most comprehensive in the world. This seminar examines how it got that way. After the Civil War, when the first public art museums were founded in the United States, Boston took the lead in collecting ancient Egyptian art. The course focuses on the beginnings of American interest in Egyptology and its cultural and intellectual milieu. The main thrust is the various stages in the formation of the MFA's Egyptian collection—including its forty years of excavation in Egypt and the Sudan—and its interpretation. Works of Egyptian art in the MFA's collection are studied in detail, both in the classroom and in the galleries, and the rationale behind the installations of these objects in the galleries is explored and analyzed.
Mr. Berman (Museum of Fine Arts, Boston)

FA 85a Depression Modern: American Art in the 1930s
Prerequisites: general survey of America art and or photography recommended.
Although the United States was under extreme political, economic, and social stress in the 1930s, it was a surprisingly vital era for the visual arts. Many painters turned from abstraction to a realistic depiction of their surroundings, sometimes with a social or political subtext, sometimes not. In photography, a documentary aesthetic was replacing the elegant abstractions of Alfred Stieglitz and his circle. This seminar examines paintings and photography of the Depression era, seeking to understand the ways art portrayed the stories of the truly disenfranchised as well as of the middle class. Key figures—Edward Hopper, Charles Sheeler, Walker Evans, Berenice Abbott—are well represented in the MFA's collections. Their works, studied in the original are the focus for examining the visual culture of the 1930s.
Ms. Troyen (Museum of Fine Arts, Boston)

FA 85b Materials and Techniques of Works of Art
Provides an introduction to the materials used in a wide variety of works of art (stone, ceramic, metal, glass, paint, wood, paper, textiles, manmade materials including plastics), where the materials come from, and how they are utilized to make works of art. Most course meetings focus on a specific material and include an introductory lecture and visits to the Museum's conservation laboratories and or galleries to examine closely and discuss individual works of art made from that material. How materials deteriorate over time, and how such changes can dramatically affect the appearance of a work of art are also discussed. Overview lectures discuss the nature of materials from a scientific point of view, defining basic concepts that are necessary to understand the materials used in works of art. Course requires students to examine artifacts on display at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston.
