German Language and Literature

Objectives

The German section of the Department of German, Russian, and Asian Languages and Literature offers instruction in the German language and literature aimed at providing access to many aspects of the culture, past and present, of Germany, Austria, and parts of Switzerland. German has always been one of the prime languages of international scholarship, and the reunification of Germany in 1990 has drawn renewed attention to the European and worldwide importance of that country. German majors have gone on to graduate school in German literature to prepare for a career of teaching and research or to professional schools in law, medicine, or business, entered government work, or found employment with publishing companies or business firms with international connections.

How to Become a Major

The department welcomes all students who wish to become majors in German language and literature. Nonmajors and majors are offered computer-aided instruction in German, and work in the classroom is supplemented with regular German-speaking events. Majors in German literature are encouraged to spend their junior year in Germany or any other German-speaking country. Students are especially encouraged to participate in the Brandeis Berlin Summer Program, a six-week intensive program taught in the center of the German capital. See Scott Van Der Meid in the Study Abroad office for more details.

In addition to the major in German literature, the section offers a minor in German literature and participates in the program in European Cultural Studies. (The abbreviation GECS denotes German and European Cultural Studies courses.)

Faculty

See German, Russian, and Asian Languages and Literature.

Requirements for the Major

A. ECS 100a [European Cultural Studies: The Proseminar] to be completed no later than the junior year.

B. Advanced language and literature study: Required are: GER 103a, GER 104a, and GER 105a, plus any five German literature/culture courses above GER 105b, at least two of which must be conducted in German.

C. Majors wishing to graduate with departmental honors must enroll in and complete GER 99d [Senior Thesis], a full-year course. Before enrolling, students should consult with the coordinator. Candidates for departmental honors must have a 3.50 GPA in German courses previous to the senior year. Honors are awarded on the basis of cumulative excellence in all courses taken in the major and the grade on the honors thesis. One semester of the Senior Thesis may be counted toward the six required upper-level courses.

A major in German may obtain the Massachusetts teaching certificate at the high school level by additionally completing requirements of the education program. Interested students should meet with the program director.

Requirements for the Minor

GER 103a or GER 104a and GER 105b are required, plus two German literature/culture courses above GER 105b. Successful completion of GER 30a or a departmental language exemption exam is a prerequisite for the minor.
Courses of Instruction

[1–99] Primarily for Undergraduate Students

GER 10a Beginning German
Intended for students with little or no previous knowledge of German. Emphasis is placed on comprehending, reading, writing, and conversing in German and the presentation of basic grammar. Class work is enhanced by various interactive classroom activities and is supplemented by extensive language lab, video, and computer-aided exercises. Usually offered every year in the fall.
Ms. von Mering

GER 20b Continuing German
Prerequisite: GER 10a or the equivalent. Continuation of comprehending, reading, writing, and conversing in German, with an emphasis on basic grammar concepts. Special attention is paid to the development of speaking skills in the context of cultural topics of the German-speaking countries. Extensive language lab, video, and computer-aided exercises supplement this course. Usually offered every year in the spring.
Ms. von Mering

GER 30a Intermediate German
Prerequisite: GER 20b or the equivalent. In concluding the development of the four language speaking skills—comprehending, writing, reading, and speaking—this course focuses on finishing up the solid grammar foundation that was laid in GER 10a and GER 20b. It also presents additional audio and video material, films, radio plays, and newspaper and magazine articles, as well as a variety of extensive interactive classroom activities. Usually offered every year in the fall.
Ms. von Mering

[100–199] For Both Undergraduate and Graduate Students

The abbreviation GECS denotes German and European cultural studies courses which are taught in English.

GER 103a What You Always Wanted to Know
Prerequisite: GER 30a
Why is 1870 an important date in German history? What/who is Wilhelm Tell of Switzerland? What exactly is the Weimar Republic? Why was it so easy for Hitler to seize power? Was Hitler German or Austrian? What is “Zwolftonmusik”? What is Dadaism? Is Wagner’s music anti-semitic? What was the relation between “Bauhaus” and the Nazi regime? What is the “new German film”? The “Ossies” and the “Wessies” and their trouble in getting along—why is that? All that and much more are elaborated in this cultural overview course that aims to cover German, Swiss, and Austrian history and culture, while at the same time strengthening and enhancing German language competency.
Ms. Geffers Browne

GER 104a Let's Talk! Shall We?
Prerequisite: GER 30a
Designed to focus on fostering students’ oral skills. Numerous mock situations and roleplaying exercises provide students with the opportunity to develop and polish oral competency in the German language. Various mock social gatherings like student outings and parties, festive family events, romantic dates, and academic and professional interview situations offer the know-how for interns to be successful and gain the most out of their experience abroad. Travel and restaurant “language,” and also a certain amount of business German, all this and more are practiced in this course.
Ms. Geffers Browne

GER 105a Learning Language through Literature/Learning Literature through Language
Prerequisite: GER 30a or the equivalent. Provides broad introduction to contemporary German literature while further enhancing various language skills through reading, writing, student presentations, class discussion, and partner and group activities. “Covers” the entire twentieth century, examining ways in which literature reflects culture, history, and politics, and vice versa. Focuses on a significant expansion of vocabulary as well as ironing out some subtle grammar “traps.” Students’ writing skills improve by means of numerous creative writing assignments. Speaking skills are challenged in every class since the course is designed as an interactive language/literature course. Usually offered every year.
Ms. Geffers Browne

GER 109b Meisterwerke Deutscher Kurzprosa
Conducted in German. Tailored to suit the needs of advanced intermediate students, this course explores in detail several short prose masterworks by writers including Martin Buber, Franz Kafka, Friedrich Nietzsche, Thomas Mann, Rainer Maria Rilke, and Arthur Schnitzler. Usually offered every third year.
Mr. Dowden

GER 110a Goethe
Open to all students. Conducted in English with readings in English translation. Explores the dialectic of reason and the irrational from the late eighteenth century in Germany and Austria until its collapse in World War I. Works by Beethoven, Kant, Mendelsohn, Goethe, Lessing, Mozart, Heine, Novalis, Schopenhauer, Nietzsche, Thomas Mann, and others. Usually offered every third year.
Ms. von Mering

GECS 119b Nietzsche to Postmodernism
Open to all students. Conducted in English with readings in English translation. Explores the dialectic of reason and the irrational from the late nineteenth century in Germany and Austria to the present. Works by Adorno, Benjamin, Brecht, Celan, Habermas, Heidegger, Junger, Kiefer, Thomas and Heinrich Mann, Nietzsche, Schoenberg, Spengler, and expressionist painting and film. Usually offered every second year.
Mr. Dowden

GER 120a German Enlightenment and Classicism
Prerequisites: GER 39a, A– or better in GER 30a, or the equivalent.
May be taken only with the permission of the chair or the advising head. Interdisciplinary approach to German literature and European cultural studies courses focusing on the intellectual movements—enlightenment, storm and stress, and idealism—that eventually culminated in German classicism. Usually offered every third year.
