The Richman Fellowship was created by Brandeis alumna Carol Richman Saivetz ’69, along with her children, Michael Saivetz ’97 and Aliza Saivetz Glasser ’01, in honor of Carol’s parents, Fred and Rita Richman. The award, which is hosted by the International Center for Ethics, Justice and Public Life on behalf of the Office of the President, is funded by the generosity of the Richman and Saivetz families.

2016-17
AWARD PRESENTATION AND LECTURE

REV. JEFFREY L. BROWN
THE COURAGE TO LISTEN
Why It’s More Critical Now Than Ever

Wednesday, March 22, 2017 | 4:00 PM
Rapaporte Treasure Hall, Goldfarb Library
brandeis.edu/richmanfellow | ethics@brandeis.edu

REV. JEFFREY L. BROWN is a key community leader responsible for what The New York Times called the “Boston Miracle,” when the youth homicide rate declined from a high of 73 deaths (1990) to zero (1995-98). Brown is founder of RECAP (Rebuilding Every Community Around Peace), working in communities such as Rio de Janeiro, Johannesburg and Belfast. The model of social responsibility Brown helped mastermind involves new roles for youth, police and courts to advance social justice and ensure the right of every young person to live in an urban community without violence.

REV. JEFFREY L. BROWN
Brandeis University

The Richman Fellowship was created by Brandeis alumna Carol Richman Saivetz ’69, along with her children, Michael Saivetz ’97 and Aliza Saivetz Glasser ’01, in honor of Carol’s parents, Fred and Rita Richman. The award, which is hosted by the International Center for Ethics, Justice and Public Life on behalf of the Office of the President, is funded by the generosity of the Richman and Saivetz families.