FA 3A is a course that introduces the fundamental principles of design and drawing as a language.

An extensive amount of work is required. You will be responsible for in-class drawings, homework (work done outside of class) and participation in critiques.

Success in this 4 credit hour course is based on the expectation that students will spend a minimum of 8 hours of study time per week in preparation for class (readings, papers, discussion sections, preparation for exams, etc.).

Grading. A final portfolio will be turned in at the end of the semester. Grades are given to finished projects only. Successful completion of an assignment involves a high level of ambition and the ability to resolve visual problems in a challenging and inventive way. Any work receiving less than satisfactory remarks may be redone before the end of the semester. If you have any concerns regarding your progress and standing at any time during the semester, please arrange to meet with me.

A High Distinction, B Distinction, C Satisfactory, D Passing, but Unsatisfactory E Failure

Attendance. Attendance is required. Absences will significantly affect your grade. Missing one third of scheduled classes will result in failure of the course. It is your responsibility to make up work due to absence.

Cell phone use is not allowed during class.

“If you are a student with a documented disability at Brandeis University and if you wish to request a reasonable accommodation for this class, please see me immediately. Please keep in mind that reasonable accommodations are not provided retroactively.”
