Center for Teaching and Learning
Services and Resources

One-on-one confidential teaching consultations with the CTL

• Helping students learn more effectively (in-class and out-of-class methods)
• Creating effective assignments and syllabi
• Addressing difficult conversations in the classroom

Small Group Sessions with the CTL

• Collaborating with a small group of faculty on a teaching and learning issue
• Re-envisioning courses, syllabi, assignments, grading schemes – anything you want

Ongoing faculty discussion groups

• Theme-based groups that meet throughout the semester (e.g., Diversity and Inclusion in our Classrooms; Large Classes; New Faculty; Scholarship of Teaching and Learning; Teaching Languages)

Classroom Observations

• Observing skilled teachers from across campus, with optional discussion on the observation
• Being observed by a skilled teacher, followed by discussion of the observation

Day-long and multi-day programs

• 2-day Course Design Institute
• Day-long Celebration of Teaching and Learning
• New Faculty Orientation

Referrals to other resources on campus

• LTS (e.g., assistance with classroom technology or LATTE)
• Experiential Learning and Teaching
• Academic Services

For additional information, visit the CTL (one floor down from the circulation desk in Goldfarb), email us at: ctl@brandeis.edu, or call 781 736 8322