We invite you to this exciting workshop designed for BNC members and leaders in the nonprofit community discussing how to build community and manage a volunteer organization.

Please join us for this session of our virtual leadership program series led by Kathy Edersheim, author of the book 'Connect, Engage, Thrive' and community building expert.

This session will provide a look at the challenges faced when managing volunteer organizations in the real world. We encourage all participants to bring their chapter's specific challenges as case studies for insightful discussions.
