

Sean Munger

Dr. Sean Munger received his BA in History from the University of New Mexico (1993) before going to law school (Tulane Law, 1998). He practiced law, principally in the field of commercial real estate, for 12 years before returning to his first love, history, completing an MA (2012) and PhD (2017) in History from the University of Oregon. His area of focus was on environmental history, specifically climate and weather in early 19th-century America and Britain. He now teaches history at a public charter school in Portland, Oregon and online at his website www.seanmunger.com. In addition to historical works published in the U.S. and Europe, he is also the author of several novels in various genres. A heavy metal fan since age 11, he attended the Wacken Open Air metal festival in Germany 12 times between 2000 and 2014 and wrote for several metal-related publications.
