

PRESENT & DEFEND

EXERCISE YOUR RIGHT TO INFLUENCE PUBLIC POLICY!

The students of "Advocacy for Policy Change" (LGLS 161b) will try to persuade you to vote for their bills. Topics include gun violence, immigrant rights, juvenile justice, menstrual equity, mental health education, pregnancy care, data privacy, sex education, and water resources management.

"Advocacy for Policy Change" is a part of ENACT: The Educational Network for Active Civic Transformation, a national non-partisan program based at Brandeis. Across the United States undergraduates in ENACT courses engage directly with their state legislatures.
