Those who nominated him in this and past years say:

- It is obvious that Professor Morris wants his students to succeed. He gives as many resources (articles, computer programs, hand-drawn diagrams) as he can to ensure that they have a great learning experience.

- Professor Morris makes sure to present material in multiple ways and to teach to different intelligences. As an economics major, I appreciate his dedication to helping me expand my understanding of the natural sciences. He has provided me with a greater understanding of science that I can take with me for the rest of my life.

- Professor Morris is an amazing professor, advisor and mentor. He is a dynamic and interactive teacher who really cares about his students and their grasp of the course material. In both of the classes I took with Professor Morris, I was blown away by his enthusiasm for the subject, his well-formulated lectures, and the diverse and creative nature of the assignments.
