What is Broad-sided?

Street art. Fine art. Free art. Dialogue. Serendipitous public art. A counter-force for billboards advertising fast food and cars.

Founded in 2005, Broad-sided publishes an original literary/artistic collaboration each month for visitors to the site to download, mull, print, and share.

Broad-sided is here to put literature and art on the streets.

How does Broad-sided work?

Writing is chosen from submissions emailed to Broad-sided. Artists allied with Broad-sided are sent the selected writing. They "dibs" what resonates for them and respond visually.

A letter-sized pdf of the collaboration is designed and posted on our site. Anyone with a computer and printer can print it.

"Vectors" post the broadsides on office doors, coffee shop notice boards, bathroom stalls, etc., thereby Vectorizing their towns.

You could be a Vector. You could get Broad-sided.

Where is Broad-sided?

Broad-sided has Vectors posting in almost every US State, in several European Countries, Chile, Japan, the Philippines, and several provinces in Canada. Maybe more... we can't say where every Vector lies, which is part of the charm of Broad-sided. Visit the site to see our interactive map and posting samples.
