How are Lebanese protesters using art to express their views?

“A local designer who goes by the name Phesti borrowed from the imagery of pirate groups, space heroines, Indigenous people and farmers united against the status quo...”

Imagining Together Platform for Arts, Culture and Conflict and PeaceBUILDING: Arts, Culture and Conflict Transformation

By Christine Vertucci

Between May-August 2019, the Mindanao Peacebuilding Institute (MPI) hosted a discussion with the ➩ Dr. Toni Shapiro-Phim, the IMPACT Strategy Gathering. At this event, arts and conflict transformation practitioners from the various parts of the continent came together to support one another. The format was “Long Table” and of “the other” offered the space for meeting, expressing practices”

Lee Perlman

In the coming months, IMPACT plans to lead sessions at the upcoming: IMPACT Strategic Gathering in Zurich, the IMPACT Leadership Academy, and the Arts Education Policy Review.

Dr. Toni Shapiro-Phim, IMPACT initiative director and senior fellow at Humanity United, will focus on creative responses to gender-based violence and engage in ongoing initiatives.

Dear friends of Brandeis’,

The Earth Systems Journey (ESJ) is a curriculum framework for art-led, educational experiences for K-12 classrooms in the US and abroad. This program engages students to think critically and creatively about environmental issues and to develop decision making skills in ways that show how human-engineered systems are foundational to our daily lives.

Martha Gittler

To comment on “Peacebuilding and the Arts Now” and to access additional resources, please visit janesapp.org.

Dr. Toni Shapiro-Phim

For more on Jane Sapp’s new book, “Peacebuilding and the Arts Now,” and the seven-episode podcast, please visit janesapp.org.