Master of Science in Finance (MSF)

Master of Science in Finance (MSF)

An MSF degree from Brandeis International Business School equips students to succeed in financial careers around the world. Students will engage with rigorous modeling and conduct complex financial and predictive analyses, gaining hands-on experience that prepares them for roles in asset management, corporate finance and valuation, FinTech and risk management.

PROGRAM OPTIONS

All program options begin in the fall.

MSF

Students complete the MSF program in 16 months, including a required practicum.

DUAL DEGREE

The MSF/MBA dual degree can be completed over four to five semesters. Complete the MSF/MBA with a combined 79 credits, instead of the 109 credits required to earn each degree independently.

PART-TIME MSF

Students can finish the part-time MSF program in three to four years, taking four to five classes a year. Optimal for students with flexible schedules, as courses are held throughout the day.
