Brandeis University is ranked #35 among National Universities by U.S. News & World Report.

Graduate Professional Studies is a division of the Rabb School, one of four graduate schools at Brandeis University.

Experience the confidence and savvy of someone who has earned a top-tier master’s degree.

Take your place among the influencers.

Our cutting-edge, real-world, industry relevant curriculum addresses skills gaps in emerging and evolving industries.

Our students are professionals from many industries seeking to expand their skills and excel in these fields.

“As an online learner at Brandeis GPS, I found the coursework and support resources convenient and accommodating. In fact, I rarely felt as though my studies were an interruption. What I learned was immediately applicable, and I continue every day to benefit from the understanding the courses gave me.” — Scott Paddock, GPS Graduate
OUR STUDENT BODY
Driven community of approximately 700 students representing 40 states and 7 countries. Our students’ ages range from 23 to 60+ years old.

BY THE NUMBERS
- 12 Master’s Degrees
- 500+ Matriculated Students
- 100+ Non-matriculated Students
- 85+ Instructors
- 110+ Advisory Board Members
- 2,000 Alumni and Counting
- 400+ Companies Represented
- 1 Student Advisor per Student

FLEXIBLE OPTIONS
Take courses year-round
- 10-week sessions starting in January, April, July and October
Paced asynchronous courses
- Complete coursework from any location, with no set meeting times
Take courses for professional development
- Enroll in courses without applying for admission
Rolling admissions
- The whole view of your experience is considered
Complete your program at your own pace
- Finish in as few as 18 months

WHY GPS
- Brandeis standards of excellence
- Professional connections
- Marketable skills
- Outcomes-based
- Convenient, flexible, fully online
- Faculty active in industry
- Seminar-style classes
- No set meeting times
- Classes capped at 20 students
- GRE/GMAT not required

“Obtaining a master’s degree at Brandeis University was one of the most rewarding experiences of my life. The structure of the online courses was quite flexible and fit into my work schedule. I found each class very valuable not only to my profession, but I’m also able to use the skills acquired from the courses outside of work.”

- Amyntrah Maxwell, Alum, MS in Project and Program Management

www.brandeis.edu/gps | gps@brandeis.edu | 781-736-8787
2019-2020 Academic Year