“Graduate school does not have to be a life-consuming event, nor should it be. There is much to be enjoyed in life, such as home-ownership, vacations, and the pursuit of personal goals. Not having to sacrifice other opportunities meant everything to me. Brandeis GPS was and is the key to this ever-important balance of life and learning.”

— Tom Burt, Alum
“Brandeis was tremendously flexible with my needs and helped me during my times of personal hardship. My engaging student advisor guided the path every step of the way.

This university is not just an establishment, it’s a community which fosters learning, wonderful communication, and endless support. Although my program was completed online, I never once felt alone in my journey to accomplishing something great.”

- Angela Dalembert, Alum, MS in Health Informatics
