Invest in your retirement—and yourself—today, with help from the Brandeis University 457(b) Plan and Fidelity.
Invest some of what you earn today for what you plan to accomplish tomorrow.

Dear Senior Management Group Member:

Your Brandeis University offers outstanding convenience and a variety of investment options. Take a look and see what a difference enrolling in the Plan could make in achieving your goals.

Benefit from:

Convenience. Your contributions are automatically deducted regularly from your paycheck.

Tax savings now. Your pretax contributions are deducted from your pay before income taxes are taken out. This means that you can actually lower the amount of current income taxes you pay each period. It could mean more money in your take-home pay versus saving money in a taxable account.

Tax-deferred savings opportunities. You pay no taxes on any earnings until you withdraw them from your account, enabling you to keep more of your money working for you now.

Investment options. You have the flexibility to select from investment options that range from more conservative to more aggressive, making it easy for you to develop a well-diversified investment portfolio.

Online beneficiary. With Fidelity’s Online Beneficiaries Service, you can designate your beneficiaries, receive instant online confirmation, and check your beneficiary information virtually any time.

To learn more about what your plan offers, see “Frequently asked questions about your plan” later in this guide.

Frequently asked questions about your plan.

Here are answers to questions you may have about the key features, benefits, and rules of your plan.

When can I enroll in the Plan?
There is no waiting period. You can enroll in the Plan at any time.

What should I consider before enrolling?
457(b) plans have different rules than 403(b) plans. The investments made under the 457(b) Plan are considered general assets of your employer. In the unlikely event that your employer became insolvent, assets within the 457(b) Plan would be subject to claims made by your employer’s general creditors. Like 403(b) plans, assets within the 457(b) Plan cannot be distributed unless you retire, terminate your employment, or qualify for a distribution under the Plan’s unforeseeable emergency rules.

How do I enroll in the Plan?
Enroll online by logging on to www.netbenefits.com/brandeis any time. Use the "Quick Links" drop-down menu in the Brandeis University 457(b) Plan to select "Contribution Amount" and follow the prompts. Remember, the amount you elect is the amount that will be deducted each pay period. Once you submit your contribution amount, follow “Next Steps” to update your investment elections.

You can also enroll by calling the Fidelity Retirement Benefits Line Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Eastern time at 800-343-0860.

How much can I contribute?
You can contribute up to 100% of eligible pay on a pretax basis, up to the 2020 IRS limit of $19,500. This is in addition to your contribution to the Brandeis University 403(b) Plan. Sign up online by accessing the “Contribution Amount” section on NetBenefits®, or by calling the Fidelity Retirement Benefits Line at 800-343-0860.

What is the IRS contribution limit?
You may defer $19,500, the maximum IRS limit in 2020, which applies to all employee and employer contributions in all 457 plans in which you participate.

When is my enrollment effective?
Your enrollment becomes effective once you elect a deferral amount, which initiates deduction of your contributions from your pay. These salary deductions begin the first payroll date following the calendar month of your election date.

How do I designate my beneficiary?
If you have not already selected your beneficiaries, or if you have experienced a life-changing event such as a marriage, divorce, birth of a child, or a death in the family, it’s time to consider your beneficiary designations. Fidelity’s Online Beneficiaries Service, offers a straightforward, convenient process that takes just minutes. To make your elections, click on the “Profile” link, then select “Beneficiaries” and follow the online instructions.

What are my investment options?
To help you meet your investment goals, the Plan offers you a range of options. You can select a mix of investment options that best suits your goals, time horizon, and risk tolerance. The many investment options available through the Plan include conservative, moderately conservative, and aggressive funds. A complete description of the Plan’s investment options and their performance, as well as planning tools to help you choose an appropriate mix, are available online.

What if I don’t make an investment election?

We encourage you to take an active role in the Brandeis University 457(b) Plan and choose investment options that best suit your goals, time horizon, and risk tolerance. If you do not select specific investment options in the Plan, your contributions will be invested in the Vanguard Target Retirement Fund Investor Shares with the target retirement date closest to the year you might retire, based on your current age and assuming a retirement age of 65, at the direction of Brandeis University.

If no date of birth or an invalid date of birth is on file at Fidelity your contributions may be invested in the Vanguard Target Retirement Income Fund Investor Shares. More information about the Vanguard Target Retirement Fund Investor Shares options can be found online.

Target Date Funds are an asset mix of stocks, bonds and other investments that automatically becomes more conservative as the fund approaches its target retirement date and beyond. Principal invested is not guaranteed.

When am I vested?

You are always 100% vested in your own contributions to the Brandeis University 457(b) Plan.

Can I take a loan from my account?

Loans are not available in this Plan.

Can I make withdrawals?

Withdrawals from the 457(b) Plan are generally permitted when you terminate your employment, retire, or have an unforeseeable emergency. Any assets distributed from your 457(b) Plan account will be taxable as ordinary income, which will be taxed as wages in the year in which you receive the them. Federal income tax will not be withheld at the rate in effect at the time of withdrawal if an eligible plan-to-plan transfer is made to another employer’s 457(b) plan that accepts the transfer. Be sure you understand the federal and state tax consequences of any distribution before you initiate one. You may want to consult your tax advisor about your situation.

To discuss or initiate a withdrawal, please contact the Fidelity Retirement Benefits Line at 800-343-0860.

What happens to my account if I separate from service?

You will have 90 days following your termination date to elect a date in the future to begin receiving distributions from your account. During that time, you may consider either of the following two options:

1. Make No Election – If you do not make an election during the 90-days election period, the full value of your account will be distributed as a lump-sum payment on the first day of the month following the 90-days election period.

2. Make an Affirmative Election – This option provides you with the opportunity to select a date in the future to begin receiving distributions. Distributions may be made in the form of a lump-sum payment, or as approximately equal installment payments made on an annual basis for a period of time.

Distributions may begin on any date following your termination date but can be deferred no later than April following the date that you turn 72*. You also have the option of transferring your account balance to another eligible 457(b) Plan after separation from service. Refer to the Summary Plan Description or call Fidelity for more details.

3. Minimum Account Balance - If a Participant’s Account balance does not exceed $5,000, the Administrator shall make a lump sum distribution of such Account balance without the consent of the Participant as soon as administratively feasible following the Participant’s Severance from Employment.

To discuss or initiate a withdrawal, please contact the Fidelity Retirement Benefits Line at 800-343-0860. Be sure you understand the federal and state tax consequences of any distribution before you initiate one. You may want to consult your tax advisor about your situation.

* The change in the RMD age requirement from 70½ to 72 only applies to individuals who turn 70½ on or after January 1, 2020. Please speak with your tax advisor regarding the impact of this change on future RMDs.

What transaction fees are applicable to the Plan?

Plan administrative fees may include legal, accounting, trustee, recordkeeping and other administrative fees and expenses associated with maintaining the Plan. Brandeis University is paying the $10,000 annual plan recordkeeping fee.

Individual fees and expenses include those associated with a service or transaction that an individual may select. For instance,

- QDRO Web request is $300

In particular, you can access a withdrawal modeling tool, which shows the amount of federal income taxes and early withdrawal penalties you might pay, along with the amount of earnings you could potentially lose by taking a withdrawal. Additional information can be obtained by calling the Fidelity Retirement Benefits Line at 800-343-0860.

Target date investments are generally designed for investors expecting to retire around the year indicated in each investment's name. The investments are managed to gradually become more conservative over time. The investment risks of each target date investment change over time as its asset allocation changes. They are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high yield, small cap and foreign securities. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after their target dates.

This spectrum, with the exception of the Domestic Equity category, is based on Fidelity’s analysis of the characteristics of the general investment categories of the investment options and not on the actual security holdings, which can change frequently. Investment options in the Domestic Equity category are based on the options’ Morningstar categories as of 02/29/2020. Morningstar categories are based on a fund’s style as measured by its underlying portfolio holdings over the past three years and may change at any time. These style calculations do not represent the investment options’ objectives and do not predict the investment options’ future styles. Investment options are listed in alphabetical order within each investment category. Risk associated with the investment options can vary significantly within each particular investment category, and the relative risk of categories may change under certain economic conditions. For a more complete discussion of risk associated with the mutual fund options, please read the prospectuses before making your investment decision. The spectrum does not represent actual or implied performance.

Investment Options

Fidelity® U.S. Bond Index Fund

VRS Code: 002326

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the aggregate price and interest performance of the debt securities in the Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Aggregate Bond Index.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of the fund's assets in bonds included in the Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Index using a smaller number of securities. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default) and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines).

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund can invest in securities that may have a leveraging effect (such as derivatives and forward-settling securities) which may increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who has a low tolerance for investment risk and who wishes to keep the value of his or her investment relatively stable.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her bond and stock fund holdings in order to reach a particular asset allocation.

It seeks to reduce risk by investing across many different industries. The portfolio managers employ a research driven and valuation sensitive approach to stock selection, with a focus on long term sustainability.

Fund Risk: Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile. Metropolitan West Total Return Bond Fund Class I

VRS Code: 844384

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to maximize long-term total return.

Fund Strategy: The fund pursues its objective by investing, under normal circumstances, at least 80% of its net assets in investment grade fixed income securities or unrated securities that are determined by the Adviser to be of comparable quality. Up to 20% of the fund’s net assets may be invested in securities rated below investment grade. The fund also invests at least 80% of its net assets plus borrowings for investment purposes in fixed income securities it regards as bonds.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. The fund may invest in lower-quality debt securities that involve greater risk of default or price changes due to potential changes in the credit quality of the issuer. Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund Objective: The investment seeks a high level of dividend income and long-term capital growth primarily through investments in stocks.

Fund Strategy: The fund will normally invest at least 80% of its net assets (including any borrowings for investment purposes) in common stocks, with an emphasis on large-capitalization stocks that have a strong track record of paying dividends or that are believed to be undervalued. The adviser generally seeks investments in large-capitalization companies and the fund’s yield, which reflects the level of dividends paid by the fund, is expected to normally exceed the yield of the Russell 1000® Value Index.

Vanguard Institutional Index Fund Institutional Shares

VRS Code: 893556

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to track the performance of a benchmark index that measures the investment return of large-capitalization stocks.

Fund Strategy: The fund employs an indexing investment approach designed to track the performance of the Standard & Poor’s 500 Index, a widely recognized benchmark of U.S. stock market performance that is dominated by the stocks of large U.S. companies. The advisor attempts to replicate the target index by investing all, or substantially all, of its assets in the stocks that make up the index, holding each stock in approximately the same proportion as its weighting in the index.

Fund Risk: Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile.
