Re: Plan Changes with respect to the Plans below:
Brandeis University Defined Contribution Retirement Plan for Non-Exempt Employees and the Brandeis University Defined Contribution Retirement Plan for Faculty, Professional and Administrative Employees (“the Plans”)

Dear Brandeis University Retirement Plan Participant:

Brandeis University is committed to periodically reviewing the Plans to make sure they continue to help you meet your retirement and financial goals. Among the things considered are the ranges of investment options available through the Plans, investment option performance and value, and whether the Plans give you access to services that complement your account.

As a result, Brandeis University has decided to change the Plans’ investment lineups by adding two funds and removing five funds to the Plan’s investment. This communication outlines changes to the investment options on the Plans.

The changes will take place without any action required on your part. However, if you are not satisfied with how your current investment elections will be modified, you will have the opportunity to make changes. Go to the What Do I Need to Do? section to learn more.

Your New Investment Options

Beginning June 17, 2019, the following investment options will be added to the investment lineup. Please see the Investment Option Descriptions section of this letter for more details.

- Fidelity® U.S. Bond Index Fund
- Fidelity® International Index Fund

Investment Options Being Removed

When the market closes (generally 4 p.m. Eastern time) on June 17, 2019, five investment options offered through the Plans will no longer be available. As a result, all existing balances and future contributions will be transferred to the new or current investment options. See the following chart for details.

The transfer of balances will appear as an exchange on your account history and quarterly statement.

The dates shown are based on the timing and accuracy of a variety of factors, including the transfer of data, receipt of instructions, and receipt of assets. Changes in any of these factors may result in changes to the dates and timing, including the dates on which, and thus the prices at which, assets in your account are sold and/or reinvested.

Vanguard Target Date Investment Options

Your contributions and existing balances as indicated in the mapping chart located in the chart above will be directed to a Vanguard Target Retirement Investment option. Brandeis University has chosen a Vanguard Target Retirement Investment option based on your date of birth and the assumption that you will retire at age 65. Simply find your date range in the chart below to determine which Vanguard Target Retirement Investment option your contribution and existing balances will be directed to.

We encourage you to take an active role in your Plans and choose investment options that best suit your goals, time horizon, and risk tolerance. If you have not already made an active investment election decision, we encourage you to review the investment options available to you. However, if no elections are made, Brandeis University has directed Fidelity to invest your future contributions in a Vanguard Target Retirement Fund based on your current age and assuming a retirement age of 65. Simply find your date of birth range in the chart below to determine which Vanguard Target Retirement Fund your contributions will be directed to.

Target Date Funds are an asset mix of stocks, bonds and other investments that automatically becomes more conservative as the fund approaches its target retirement date and beyond. Principal invested is not guaranteed. For more information on the Vanguard Target Retirement Funds, log on to Fidelity

Fidelity® U.S. Bond Index Fund

Fund Code: 2326
Ticker: FXNAX

Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the aggregate price and interest performance of the debt securities in the Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Aggregate Bond Index.

Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of the fund’s assets in bonds included in the Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Index using a smaller number of securities. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default) and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund’s risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines).

Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund can invest in securities that may have a leveraging effect (such as derivatives and forward-settling securities) which may increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly.

Short-term Redemption Fee Note: None

Who may want to Invest:
- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest dividends rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.
