Good morning,

[Redacted line]

and changed all the passwords for our email accounts in Ethiopia and did not make the necessary arrangements for a few traveling families. This has been an inconvenience of course, but really has put us in a bind with one particular family who is now in Ethiopia.

Apparently Rahel did not know they were scheduled this week and has not delivered the To Whom It May Concern Letter to the Embassy yet, she will do so tomorrow.

Where does this leave us? Like I said, this is the only family impacted as our next group is in 2 weeks, of course.

Rahel should be in tomorrow with the letter. Please let me know how we should proceed.
