

APPENDIX D: Other Conversants & Informants

In order to have a better view of the Buffer Fringe Festival within the Cyprus conflict framework and to fully understand the different views of the conflict, we approached scholars and other individuals whose [research] interest lie within this context. We conducted interviews and/or were provided with useful information and relevant scientific articles by:

- Professor Costas M. Constantinou, Department of Social and Political Sciences, University of Cyprus
- Professor Yiannis Papadakis, Department of Social and Political Sciences, University of Cyprus
- Mr Andreas Riris, Press and Political Analyst, Cyprus
- Ms Eleni Papadopoulou, Politis Newspaper, Cyprus
- Mr Izel Seylani, Actor, Director and Theatre Educator, Cyprus
- Mr Klitos Papastylianou, Activist, Cyprus

We also approached colleagues in the Arts, Culture and Conflict Transformation ecosystem and other colleagues for their input and insights at various stages of the study:

- Ms Jasmina Ibrahimovic, Artistic Director, ICAF (International Communities Arts Festival), Rotterdam, The Netherlands
- Professor Kyoko Okumoto, Professor of Peace Studies, Conflict Transformation, and English Literature at Osaka Jogakuin University, Japan
- Ms Inge Ceustermans, General Director, The Festival Academy. an initiative of the European Festivals Association (EFA)
- Professor Fiorella Bassan (Emeritus), Faculty of Literature and Philosophy, Sapienza, Università Di Roma, Italy
- Professor Jeremy Pressman, Department of Political Science and Director of Middle East Studies, University of Connecticut, U.S.A.
- Dr. Galia Press-Barnathan, Department of International Relations, Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel
- Dr. Edna Barromi Perlman, University of Haifa and Kibbutzim College of Education, Israel
- Mr. Hillel Schenker, Co-Editor, Israel-Palestine Journal, Tel Aviv, Israel
- Ms Alexandra Zaslav, Hand in Hand: Center for Jewish-Arab Education in Israel
- Dr. Raviv Schwartz, MA Program in Non-Profit Management and Leadership, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel