Dear Supervisors:

The Brandeis University Student Employment Program offers a wonderful opportunity for students to defray the cost of their college education while also gaining valuable work experience and marketable skills. In order to maximize the benefits of this experience, it is important that you familiarize yourself with the policies and procedures by which this program operates, as well as the federal and state laws to which it is subject.

The Student Employment Handbook contains nearly all of the information that you need to know about the Brandeis University Student Employment Program. It explains the requirements, responsibilities, and rights that you have as a supervisor of student employees. Should you have any questions, concerns, or problems please contact the Office of Student Financial Services.

Sincerely,

Kristyn Burke

Kristyn Burke
Assistant Director of Student Employment

This handbook was last updated August 2015.
Who We Are and Where We Are Located

Student Employment is located within the Office of Student Financial Services (SFS). We assist supervisors and students in all aspects of on-campus student employment and off-campus Federal Work-Study employment. We are located on the second floor of the Usdan Student Center. Our office is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986

The Immigration Reform and Control Act requires that employers verify the identity and work eligibility of every employee hired after November 6, 1986, whether a citizen or non-citizen.

In order to comply with this Federal regulation, all students who intend to work on campus will be required to present identification to the Office of Student Financial Services. International Students will be asked to show their I-94 and their I-20 in addition to their passport.

You cannot begin to work until you have completed the Form I-9 (Employment Eligibility Verification) and have presented the appropriate identifying documents to the Office of Student Financial Services.

On-Campus Employment

Who is eligible for on-campus employment?

- Both domestic and international undergraduate and graduate students.

Students must be:

- Matriculated in a Brandeis degree program.
- Enrolled in and attending courses at least half-time.
- Be able to provide appropriate documentation to satisfy the requirements of Form I-9 (Federal Employment Eligibility Verification) and have a valid Social Security Number in order to work on campus.
- Ph.D. candidates who have completed coursework but are enrolled full-time while completing their dissertations may continue to work on-campus.
• Undergraduate students who have completed their Brandeis BA or BS program and are matriculated in a Brandeis MA or Ph.D. program for the subsequent semester may continue to work on campus during summer break. (However, please note that additional paperwork may be required.)

• Students who are matriculated in the MAT program may work on campus during the summer semester while enrolled in classes, but may not work on campus while performing the required internship during the regular academic year.

Who is NOT eligible for on-campus employment?

Students who have graduated, withdrawn, or taken a leave of absence; students who are studying abroad or are enrolled in Graduate Professional Studies, BOLLI, or another continuing education program; students who are enrolled in a non-degree program.

What are Federal Work-Study (FWS) and University Employment?

There are two main types of employment on campus: Federal Work-Study (FWS) and University Employment. Although any student with a valid Social Security Number may seek employment on campus, students who are awarded an FWS or University Employment allotment as part of their financial aid package are given priority for jobs until October 1. If the student is not awarded such an allotment, they cannot be hired until after this date.

Federal Work-Study is a work program funded by the federal government and Brandeis University. It is offered to undergraduate U.S. citizens and permanent residents who meet federal eligibility requirements. Students must file the FAFSA to be considered for FWS.

The department is responsible for paying 100% of all student wages regardless of Work Study status. The University is then reimbursed for a maximum of 75% of our Federal Work Study allotment.

University Employment is a work program funded solely by Brandeis University. University Employment is awarded to eligible undergraduate international students as part of their financial aid package.
How to Hire a Student

THE OFFICE OF STUDENT FINANCIAL SERVICES DOES NOT HONOR PRIVATE AGREEMENTS OR PROMISES MADE BY SUPERVISORS TO STUDENT EMPLOYEES. ALL DEPARTMENTS ARE REQUIRED TO FOLLOW THE SAME PROCEDURES AS MANDATED BY FEDERAL AND STATE LAW AS WELL AS UNIVERSITY POLICY. BEFORE HIRING ANY STUDENT YOU MUST FOLLOW THE PROCEDURES DETAILED BELOW.

1. Develop a Job Description
2. Submit Job Posting to Student Employment for Approval and Posting
3. Conduct Interviews
4. Prepare the Job Offer in PeopleSoft and inform the student personally that they have been selected for the job.
5. Generate and Submit Timesheets once you are notified that the offer was approved.

Developing a Job Description

Brandeis University is required to maintain a job description for each student employment position. Job descriptions should include:

- The purpose of the job.
- The duties and responsibilities of the job.
- The skills and qualifications required to perform those duties.
- Days and hours required per week and length of employment
- Student employees must be supervised.
- Pay rates for student employment positions are based on the job description and are equitable across campus. Pay rates are not based on class rank, the student’s age or other non-job-related factors.
- All job descriptions and pay rates must be approved by the Office of Student Financial Services prior to posting or filling the position.
- All jobs are assumed to last one academic year unless otherwise stated.
Posting an Available Job & Hiring Online

Summer Employment and Fall Rehires
Each spring your department will receive a roster of all students actively employed by the department, along with instructions on how to complete this roster. It is the department’s responsibility to complete and return this roster to the Office of Student Financial Services by the specified due date in order to ensure seamless summer and fall employment for continuing students. Departments that fail to return the roster by the specified due date will have their payroll records updated on a first-come, first-serve basis.

If your current student leaves the position and you need to hire a replacement, you must follow the same steps outlined above. However, provided there are no changes to the position, you do not need to rewrite the job description. Instead, simply complete the Job Opening Request Form at http://www.brandeis.edu/sfs/employment/oncampusemployers.html. Do not preselect a candidate! All jobs must be posted for a minimum of 5 days.

Wages and Pay Scales
• As a recipient of Federal Title IV funds Brandeis University is required to have a job description approved by, and on file with, the Office of Student Financial Services for all paid student employment.
• The pay rate and job level are determined by a careful review of the skills and responsibilities required to perform the job. The levels incorporate degrees of skill, responsibility, job difficulty, and experience.
• Pay rates are not based on class year. Departments wishing to develop a new student employment position should present a detailed job description to the Assistant Director of Student Employment for review and posting.
• All jobs are paid an hourly wage. We do not process “one-time” or lump sum payments. Students are always paid for actual hours worked.
All undergraduate and graduate students participating in the Student Employment Program will be paid in accordance with the following scale:

Student Employment Policies

Work Week
• The work week runs from Monday to Sunday.
• During the academic year, undergraduates are allowed to work a maximum of 20 hours per week, and no more than 8 hours per day.
• According to Massachusetts state law, students working more than 6 consecutive hours must be offered a 30-minute unpaid meal break.
• U.S. graduate students may work a maximum of 40 hours per week.
• Per Federal Regulations, international students are not allowed to exceed 20 hours of work per week during academic sessions, regardless of class standing.
• During vacation periods, all students (U.S. and international undergraduate and graduate students) may work a maximum of 40 hours per week, up to 8 hours per day. Student employees should never exceed 40 hours per week.
• There will be no exceptions to the work week regulations. Supervisors may not require students to work more than the stated limits per week.
• STUDENTS AND SUPERVISORS WHO FAIL TO COMPLY WITH THIS POLICY MAY BE SUBJECT TO DISCIPLINARY ACTION UP TO AND INCLUDING TERMINATION OF THE STUDENT.

20 Hour Work Week Limit
• Domestic undergraduate student employees in good academic standing may contact the Office of Student Financial Services to apply for a waiver to exceed working 20 hours per week.
• The student will be given a petition and should make an appointment with their Academic Advisor in the Office of Academic Services to ensure that working more than 20 hours will not adversely affect their academic performance.
• If approved by the Academic Advisor, the student must then meet with his or her Financial Aid Counselor to discuss the financial aid consequences of earning a greater income.
• Once approved by both the student’s Academic Advisor and Financial Aid Counselor, the petition should be returned to the Assistant Director of Student Employment.
• A few days after submission the student and supervisor(s) will receive signed copies of the form and may then begin working up to the approved number of hours (never greater than 40).

Payment Policies
• Students are paid for actual hours worked, and therefore are not paid for holidays, snow days, mealtime, or travel time.
• According to Massachusetts state law, students working more than 6 consecutive hours must be offered a 30-minute unpaid meal break.
• Students may work a maximum of 8 hours per day.
• Students who are on Federal Work Study program or similar financial aid or scholarship programs, who provide services in the residence halls (e.g. CAs), or who are exempt from FICA tax will not be eligible to earn sick time. Those student employees who do not fall within these categories will accrue one hour of sick time for every 30 hours worked, up to a maximum of 40 hours per year. They may use accrued sick time 90 days following the first day of work. Supervisors may request documentation for any leave exceeding 3 days.
• The University will pay any student who is called to serve at a trial or grand jury for the first three days of his or her juror service, provided the student has a verifiable written work schedule. As long as the employment hours of a juror may reasonably be determined by a previously approved schedule, the student worker will be compensated for any missed work hours during the first three days.
Weekly Pay

• Hours for each campus job must be submitted online for the week in which they are worked. Do not lump multiple weeks’ hours into one entry. If you need to “back-pay” a student, complete the appropriate weeks’ paper timesheet and send it to the payroll office for processing.
• All pay will be directly deposited on Fridays to the bank account(s) specified by the student once they sign up for direct deposit.
• Students can view/print their pay stubs using BUSS. If a student does not receive pay at any time during their employment, follow the procedures detailed below in order:
  1) Check with a Student Financial Services representative to ensure that you have submitted all of the required forms.
  2) Be sure that you have submitted the hours by 6:00 p.m. Monday for the previous week worked.
  3) Call the Payroll Office (x64476) to confirm that pay was issued.
  4) If you still have not located the problem, please contact the Office of Student Financial Services and we will assist you further.

Worker’s Compensation

• In the event that a student employee is injured at work, the student should notify his or her supervisor immediately.
• As soon as the student has received appropriate medical attention to address the injury, the student and supervisor should notify both the Office of Student Financial Services and the Office of Human Resources and Employee Relations of the incident and injury.
• You and the student must then complete an “Supervisors Report of Illness or Injury” form.
• The form will be sent to Brandeis University’s worker’s compensation carrier and to the Department of Industrial Accidents within the Massachusetts state government, and further action will be taken as is appropriate.
• For any questions related to worker’s compensation, please contact the Office of Human Resources and Employee Relations at extension x64469.

Employment Verification

Any and all requests for verification of employment that come in from a third party, including but not limited to: governmental agencies such as the CIA or FBI, independent employment verification agencies, potential employers, housing or mortgage authorities or state licensing examiners should be sent to the attention of the Assistant Director of Student Employment at MS 027. All requests must be accompanied by a signed authorization form.
Pay Increases

Rehire Raises
• Employees will be given a $.25 per hour pay increase at the beginning of each academic year that they remain in the same position provided that they have completed at least one semester of employment.
• In order to give a wage increase at any other point during the year please contact the office of student employment to discuss the options (detailed below). A formal review may be required to justify a merit raise.

Summer Raises
Employers may elect to give student employees a dollar per hour raise for work performed over the summer. This increase is not mandatory and must be requested in writing. At the end of the summer the dollar per hour is removed, and the $.25 per hour rehire raise is awarded if the student continues to work in the department.

Promotions
• To promote a student, make sure that a higher level job description is on file with Student Financial Services, and that the student meets the criteria of that job description.
• All requests for such promotions are subject to the approval of the Office of Student Financial Services and must be submitted via the Student Employee Wage Adjustment Request Form. Additional written documentation may be required.

Merit Raises
Occasionally a student will exceed the standard performance for a given position. In order to qualify for consideration of a merit raise, the following must apply:
• The student must have worked in the department for a minimum of one academic semester.
• The supervisor must have completed a Student Employee Performance Evaluation Form
(http://www.brandeis.edu/offices/sfs/finaid/forms.html) at least one month prior to requesting the merit raise.
• The supervisor should complete the Student Employment change form (http://www.brandeis.edu/offices/sfs/finaid/forms.html) as well as provide supporting written documentation.
Termination of Employment

Voluntary Termination

• The student initiates a voluntary termination.
• A student who voluntarily elects to terminate his or her employment should give at least two weeks notice to the supervisor.
• The supervisor must notify the Office of Student Financial Services of any voluntary termination via the Brandeis University Student Employee Leave of Absence/Termination Form (http://www.brandeis.edu/sfs/employment/forms.html).

Withdrawal and Leave of Absence

Students who are withdrawn or take a leave of absence from the University will be terminated and are not eligible to work on campus following their official academic separation date. There are no exceptions to this rule.

Study Abroad

• Students who study abroad will be terminated effective the first day of the academic semester in which they will be abroad.
• The student may be rehired using the Rehire Form once he or she returns to campus.

Documentation of Misconduct/Involuntary Termination of Student Employees

An involuntary termination is initiated by the employer due to an employee’s unsatisfactory performance in his or her position or due to an employee’s inability to comply with University and/or office rules and regulations.

Examples of misconduct: include, but are not limited to:

- Missing scheduled shifts without notifying supervisor
- Rudeness, inappropriate language or behavior
- Unsatisfactory performance

Warnings and Terminations

Except for situations of serious misconduct (see immediate release) the procedure for warnings and/or terminations is as follows: a verbal warning upon the first instance of misconduct. If misconduct continues a written warning is to be issued. If the matter is still not resolved, a written termination notice may be issued and a copy of the Student Employee Termination Form should be completed. Supervisors are encouraged to communicate openly with students regarding performance and behavior expectations so that terminations may be avoided. Please see complete instructions on page 21.
Verbal Warning: Between supervisor and student, documented in student’s employment file and a memo sent to Kristyn Burke in the Office of Student Employment. (MS 027). See example below.

(Name of student), I’d like to speak with you about yesterday when you (missed your shift). You must call us when you are going to be absent so that we may (reschedule, organize, etc). I want you to know that this is a formal verbal warning and will be documented in your file.

Written Warning: May be either a formal letter or an email. A copy must be forwarded to Kristyn Burke in the Office of Student Employment. (MS 027). See example below.

Dear (name of student),

As we discussed on (date), you (must call in if you are going to be absent during your scheduled shift). You have again failed to comply with this policy, which results in problems for the office. This is a formal written warning and will be documented with the Office of Student Employment. If this happens again you will be terminated from your present position. If you have any questions regarding this matter please contact me as soon as possible.

Termination of Employment

In any case of involuntary termination it is very important that you contact us prior to dismissing the student. We are required by law to issue the employee final payment in full on their last day of employment. If the student is owed any pay (current pay period included) it is our responsibility to issue it on the day of discharge. Once you have possession of the final paycheck you can then notify the student of their termination.

A Written Termination Notice: Once the termination is approved by SFS, a written notice must be sent to the student and a copy sent to Kristyn Burke in the Office of Student Employment, along with a completed Brandeis University Student Employee Change form authorizing the termination. See example below.

Dear (name of student)

This letter is to notify you that you have been terminated from your present position due to (failure to report for scheduled shifts). (If applicable - Please return any office keys, material in your possession to (department supervisor) and pick up your final check immediately). This notice will be documented with the Office of Student Employment.

Terminating a student for cause can be a difficult process for many supervisors. The Office of Student Financial Services can provide you with guidance and mediation if necessary. Please contact the Assistant Director of Student Employment directly for assistance or to address questions or concerns. A student who is involuntarily terminated will receive consideration for jobs only after all aided and non-aided students have been placed.

Immediate Release

Acts of serious misconduct will not be tolerated and may result in an immediate release from employment. Examples of serious misconduct may include but are not limited to: serious disregard of University rules, disorderly conduct, the unauthorized possession, distribution, use of or being under the influence of alcohol, marijuana, or other non-prescription drugs or controlled substances during working hours, theft of University property or the personal property of a student, staff, or faculty member, breach of confidentiality, falsification of employment, payroll, or other documents, harassment, gross incompetence, and/or insubordination or refusal to perform assigned tasks.

In any case of involuntary termination or immediate release it is very important that you contact us prior to dismissing the student. We are required by law to issue the employee final payment in full on their last day of employment. If the student is owed any pay (current pay period included) it is our responsibility to issue it on the day of discharge. Once you have possession of the final paycheck you can then notify the student of their termination.

In the event that the misconduct constitutes a potential violation of community standards or policies published in the Rights and Responsibilities Handbook, file a complaint with the Office of Student Life for possible referral to the Student Judicial system. Student employment reserves the right to do this on your behalf.

Employment Opportunities at Brandeis University

Nothing in this policy or other Brandeis policies shall be interpreted to be in conflict with or to eliminate or modify in any way the employment-at-will status of employees of Brandeis University. The contents of this Handbook are informational only. Brandeis University reserves the right to modify, revoke, suspend, terminate, or change any and all policies and procedures at any time, with or without notice.

Equal Opportunity Employment

Brandeis University reaffirms its commitment to the principle of equal opportunity and equal treatment for every current and prospective student employee. In hiring and in subsequent relationships with employees, University policy is to provide equal employment opportunity without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, age, disability, or national origin. Instead, differentiation is based on consideration of applicable job experience, job performance, and federal work-study eligibility, where applicable.

Supervisors’ Rights and Responsibilities

1. All jobs must be hourly paid positions with a job description approved by and on file with the Office of Student Financial Services. All student jobs must adhere to the guidelines and policies set forth in the Student Employment Handbook.

2. According to federal regulations, students cannot work prior to completion of Form I-9. International students who have not yet received a Social Security Number are also ineligible to begin working. It is your responsibility to ensure that a student does not begin work in your department until you have received notice from SFS that they are approved for employment. Allowing a student without a Form I-9 or without a valid Social Security Number to work may result in the loss of your department’s ability to employ student workers. An off-campus work-study agency and the student must enter into a contract with Brandeis University detailing each party’s rights and responsibilities.

3. Students who are awarded a Federal Work-Study or University Employment allotment as part of their financial aid packages must be given hiring priority until October 1 of each academic year. Students who were not awarded these funds are ineligible for hire until after this date. Students working in dining services or as lifeguards are exempt from this rule. If you believe you have a circumstance that merits an exemption, please contact the Assistant Director of Student Employment for information on how to proceed with an exemption request. No exemptions will be granted for available positions that were not posted campus-wide through the Office of Student Financial Services.

4. Please consult with your department head or your department budget manager before you extend an offer of employment to a student worker to determine if you have adequate funding. Please note that your department is responsible for 100% of student earnings regardless of a students FWS status.
5. Incoming international students will not have a Social Security Number (SSN) when they first arrive on campus. However, this should not deter you from hiring a qualified international student. If you would like to hire an international student who is not yet in possession of an SSN please complete the International Student Employment form, which is available online. The student should bring this form, along with a photocopy of the completed New Hire/Rehire form, to the International Students and Scholars Office in Kutz Hall, room 215. The ISSO will then assist the student in applying for a Social Security Number. Once the student receives an SSN, he/she should go to the Office of Student Financial Services to complete Form I-9 and Form W-4. In most cases, the student will be eligible to begin working in 10-14 days. The student may not work until the SSN has been obtained and Form I-9 has been completed.

6. You have the right to be treated with respect and courtesy by your student employees. You have the right to expect that students will show up on time, be dressed appropriately for work, perform their assigned tasks and follow basic office procedures. Similarly, it is your responsibility to ensure that the student is treated with respect and courtesy, is provided with adequate training and knows what is expected of him or her, including but not necessarily limited to: knowing whom to report to, what tasks to perform and how to perform them, if the student is performing assigned tasks adequately, how to improve performance and what procedures to follow in the event that the student cannot attend regularly scheduled hours. If behavioral, performance or other issues arise which are beyond your control, or if you require guidance or assistance on a particular issue, please contact the Assistant Director of Student Employment directly.

7. It is your responsibility to print student timesheets and to submit student time into the PeopleSoft payroll system. It is also your responsibility to ensure that timesheets are completed on a daily basis, are accurate, and are signed by you and the student. All time for the previous week must be entered into PeopleSoft by 6:00 p.m. every Monday unless otherwise specified by the payroll office. Any timesheets you may have from weeks prior to the previous week must be hand delivered to the payroll office by 12:00 noon on Tuesday. Manual paychecks will not be processed for students whose hours are submitted after the deadline. Repeated failure to meet the processing deadline may result in termination of your department’s right to employ student workers.
8. It is your responsibility to ensure that all employees who work a period of more than six hours are offered a 30-minute unpaid meal break. They must be relieved of all duties during this time.

9. Students working with sensitive or confidential information must complete a Confidentiality Agreement (available at http://www.brandeis.edu/sfs/employment/forms.html) with their supervisor or department head. A copy of the Confidentiality Agreement must be submitted to the Office of Student Financial Services to be kept in the student’s permanent file. Any student who breaches the terms of the Confidentiality Agreement will be immediately released from employment.

If you have any questions or concerns at any time, please contact the Office of Student Financial Services at 781-736-3700.
