Course Description

Skills and knowledge

Combining lectures, workshops, and screenings, this course examines the fundamentals of writing for a narrative feature-length film. The course will examine story structure, characterization, scene writing, and dialogue. Students will move from ideation to developing and writing a detailed outline and the first act of their original scripts.

This class is both workshop and lecture. You will read and discuss the scripts of recent movies, pitch ideas for feature films, write frequently. Assignments will be reviewed in class, meaning you will receive criticism on your pages, as well as critique classmates' work.

Learning Goals

This course is designed to provide you with the tools necessary to tell a story visually and to get you started on your screenplay. By the end of the class, you will be able to:

1. Display an understanding of effective pitching skills,
2. Create a 35-40 scene outline for your original screenplay
3. Write the first act of an original screenplay.
4. Develop a screenplay that includes the following key elements:
 - The 3-act structure
 - Character and story arc
 - Visual storytelling
 - Beat outline
 - Script format

Class preparation time

On average, you can expect to spend 8-12 hours a week preparing for class. This may be through writing script pages, reading the textbook and additional readings, or watching assigned films.

Prerequisites

While there is no prerequisite for the class, students are expected to have basic grammatical skills.

Course Requirements

Academic Integrity

Every member of the University community is expected to maintain the highest standards of academic integrity. A student shall not submit work that is falsified or is not the result of the student's own effort. Infringement of academic honesty by a student subjects that student to serious penalties, which may include failure on the assignment, failure in the course, suspension from the University or other sanctions (see section 20 of R&R). Please consult Brandeis University Rights and Responsibilities for all policies and procedures related to academic integrity. Students may be required to submit work to TurnItIn.com software to verify originality.

A student who is in doubt regarding standards of academic honesty as they apply to a specific course or assignment should consult the faculty member responsible for that course or assignment before submitting the work. Allegations of alleged academic dishonesty will be forwarded to the Department of Student Rights and Community Standards. Assignments

All written assignments should be converted into PDF format and submitted via Latte by the due date.

Participation

- You must keep up with all readings and assigned viewings.
- All assignments, whether they are graded or not, are mandatory and are expected on time. To prevent lost pages and avoid late submissions, please save your work to the cloud each time you finish writing. Computer malfunction is NOT an excuse for a late submission.
- All homework must be typed and include your name, the date, and the assignment title.
- All work must be proofread for grammar, spelling errors, and typos. Your work will be graded down for mistakes.
- Students are allowed two unexcused absences. A third unexcused absence will result in no credit for the class.
- Students joining class more than 10 minutes late are considered tardy; two tardies count as one unexcused absence.

Portfolio

Throughout the semester, you will be expected to complete writing assignments, designed to show your growing expertise in dramatic writing and screenplay format. In some instances, assignments will be assigned, completed, and discussed, all in the same class meeting. Other times, you will have anywhere from 1 to 3 weeks to complete a more challenging writing assignment. These scripts will be emailed to me and your classmates by a predetermined due date.

Portfolios can be maintained through a Google folder. Consult Ivan Nieves (ivannieves@brandeis.edu), Lead Analyst Technologist, Information Technology, Portfolio Services, for help with portfolios.

Accommodations

Brandeis seeks to welcome and include all students. If you are a student who needs accommodations as outlined in an accommodations letter, I want to support you. In order to provide test accommodations, I need the letter more than 48 hours in advance. I want to provide your accommodations, but cannot do so retroactively. If you have questions about documenting a disability of requesting accommodations, please contact Student Accessibility Support (SAS Student Accessibility Support) at 781.736.3470 or access@brandeis.edu.

Course Materials

If you are having difficulty purchasing course materials, please make an appointment with your Student Financial Services or Academic Services advisor to discuss possible funding options and/or textbook alternatives.

Required Readings & Viewings

Textbook: The Foundations of Screenwriting, by Syd Field

Apps or Tools/Equipment

You are required to use a screenwriting program for this class. The preferred program is Final Draft, which you can download and use this semester for free at <http://trial.finaldraft.com/edutrial/>

You may also use another free scriptwriting program, Celtx (<http://www.celtx.com>).

Do not use a standard word processing software, such as Microsoft Word, to write scripts.

LATTE

LATTE is the Brandeis learning management system: <http://latte.brandeis.edu>. Login using your UNET ID and password.

Library

The Brandeis Library collections and staff offer resources and services to support Brandeis students, faculty and staff. These include workshops, consultations, collaboration, materials and instruction on emerging trends in technologies such as machine learning, emerging trends in research such as data visualization, and emerging trends in scholarship such as open access. Librarians at the Circulation Desk, Research Help Desk, Archives & Special Collections, Sound & Image Media Studios, MakerLab, AutomationLab, and Digital Scholarship Lab are available to help you. <https://www.brandeis.edu/library/about/index.html>

Privacy

This class requires the use of tools that may disclose your coursework and identity to parties outside the class. Should you choose to use the screenwriting program, Celtx, your classwork will be stored online. To protect your privacy, you may wish to use a pseudonym/alias rather than your name in submitting such work. You must share the pseudonym/alias with me and your classmates as needed. Alternatively, with prior consultation, you may submit such work directly to me.

Student Support

Brandeis University is committed to supporting all our students so they can thrive. The following resources are available to help with the many academic and non-academic factors that contribute to student success (finances, health, food supply, housing, mental health counseling, academic advising, physical and social activities, etc.). Please explore the many links on this Support at Brandeis page (<https://www.brandeis.edu/support/undergraduate-students/browse.html>) to find out more about the resources that Brandeis provides to help you and your classmates to achieve success.

Evaluation & Course grading
