

DUBLIN, IRELAND

Dublin, Ireland contains a small, but welcoming and open Jewish community. In addition to a large Israeli population, there is a Jewish Society (J-Soc), which provides opportunities for Jewish students and young professionals to participate in, and even lead, social activities. There is an Irish Jewish museum, and the community Rabbi regularly hosts students for Shabbat and holiday meals. Connect with KAHAL to find your Jewish home in Dublin, Ireland!

OPPORTUNITIES AVAILABLE

- Connections to local students and social events
- Internships and volunteer options
- Shabbat and holiday experiences
- Jewish learning and enrichment
- One Kosher restaurant and store

KAHAL
YOUR JEWISH HOME ABROAD

www.KahalAbroad.org

DUBLIN, IRELAND

SHABBAT AND HOLIDAYS

Dublin Hebrew Congregation: An Orthodox community which is the center of Dublin's Jewish life. The rabbi is extremely welcoming and hosts large Shabbat dinners in his home every week. He can also help arrange for home hospitality with families in the community for Saturday lunch. The Dublin Jewish Progressive Congregation is very small and holds services on some Shabbats and Holidays.

DIY Experience: KAHAL micro-grants are available to any Jewish student studying abroad to help facilitate your Jewish experience. Grants can be used to host your own Shabbat or Holiday meal, organize an event, attend a seminar or conference, or in some cases, as travel subsidies. Grants will be made in USD up to $250. Visit www.KahalAbroad.org/grantapp to apply, or contact Becca@KahalAbroad.org with any questions or inquiries about potential programs.

"Whether it was baking challah in our dorm kitchen, bringing Jewish and non-Jewish students to Kabbalat Shabbat services... I really felt at home in a place thousands of miles away from where I live and grew up."

Joshua Reichek
New York University

DUBLIN, IRELAND

CULTURAL, SOCIAL, VOLUNTEER, AND MORE

Dublin J-Soc: This informal social group organizes occasional meet ups, parties and happy hours and is made up of both local and international students and young professionals. They are happy to welcome study abroad students into their community and have a secret hidden Facebook group where they post about events (ask KAHAL staff to be added to the group!)

Dublin Jewish Museum: A small Jewish culture and history museum in Dublin. It's all volunteer-run and has limited hours, so check before you go.

"I can honestly say that some of my closest friends I've made here are from the Jewish community and thanks to KAHAL."

Beth Roseman, Universitat
Autonoma de Barcelona

City Must Sees... No trip to Dublin is complete without a Guinness Factory Tour. Rent a car and drive the Wild Atlantic Way to experience the beauty of the Irish countryside.

DIY Experience: KAHAL micro-grants are available to any Jewish student studying abroad to help facilitate your Jewish experience. Grants can be used to host your own Shabbat or Holiday meal, organize an event, attend a seminar or conference, or in some cases, as travel subsidies. Grants will be made in USD up to $250. Visit www.KahalAbroad.org/grantapp to apply, or contact Becca@KahalAbroad.org with any questions or inquiries about potential programs.